NUMBER OF PERSONS LOST ON THE ANCONA NOT YET DETERMINED

Of the 482 Passengers and Crew of 60 to 160 Reports Say 320 are Safe.

24 AMERICANS ABOARD

One American Woman Among List of Survivors; Nothing Known of the Others.

Brief Dramatic Account Given of Submarine Attack.

Rome, Italy, Nov. 10. — How many persons lost their lives in the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona by a submarine in the Mediterranean has not been definitely ascertained, but latest advices from Naples say that 320 survivors have been landed at Tunis ports and 50 at Malta. The number of passengers on the Ancona is placed at 482, and the crew has been estimated variously from 60 to 160.

The Ancona carried boats for the accommodation of 2,500, and it is presumed that some of the boats are still afloat, and may bring in additional survivors in the next 24 hours.

Account of Submarine Attack.

The Ancona was torpedoed Tuesday morning, and a Tunis dispatch to the Giornale O'Italia gives a dramatic, though brief account of the attack.

"A submarine approached the Ancona towards noon," says the account, "and as soon as the steamer saw it, an attempt was made to escape at full speed. The Ancona was overtaken and stopped. Then the submarine fired on the Ancona, sinking her amid the desperate cries of the passengers.

"The life boats were next attacked, the submarine likewise firing on them. A woman, a man and two children were killed; their bodies are at Bizerta. The submarine then disappeared immediately, proceeding probably in the direction of the Aegean sea.

"Before sinking, the Ancona was able to send out a wireless call for help. This was heard by the station at Bizerta. Aid was sent promptly and thus 160 passengers and ten sailors were saved. They were taken to Ferryville in the environs of Bizerta where they were attended by physicians and th consul.

"Among the survivors are a number of wounded emigrants, nearly all Venetians, and ten Greeks. A number of survivors seem to have lost their reason as the result of their terrible experiences."

Twenty-Four Americans Aboard.

The official list of survivors issued in Rome includes one American woman, Mrs. Cecile Greil, of New York, 143 Italians, 16 Greeks and one Russian. The statement is made that 24 of the Ancona's passengers were naturalized Americans. Of these nothing is known at the present town.

One of the notable passengers aboard the Ancona was the Prince of Cassano, head of one of the oldest Neapolitan families resident in Rome.

NO ADVICES RECEIVED

Anconn's Agents in New York Seeking Details of Sinking.

New York, Nov. 10.—No word of the Ancona came over the cables from Rome today to her general agents here. To scores of inquiries, many by telegraph from out-of-town, the agents had to reply that they were absolutely without advices. After an anxious day of waiting, William Hartfield, of the firm representing the Ancona's owners, besought the co-operation of the Italian consul general here in obtaining facts apparently withheld by Italian censors. The consul general, G. Fara Forni, transmitted Mr. Hartsfield's request, with an endorsement by telegraph to the Italian ambassador, at Washington. Late today a reply from Washington stated that an effort would be made at once to ascertain the details of the sinking.

Bulk of Passengers Italians.

Basing their assumption upon a careful study of the passenger list of vessels which reached here during August, September and October from Italian ports, the Ancona's agents were reasonably certain that though the vessel had a number of Americans aboard, the bulk of her passenger list was composed of Italians and refugees from the near eastern theatre of war.

It was assumed that the Ancona's passenger list varied but little in general from lists of the eleven passenger vessels which reached New York from Italy during these three months. Aboard these vessels there were many women and children, emigrants sailing to join homeseekers in America who had preceded them; a few Armenians seeking new homes in the United States; Jews driven out of Palestine; Persians, escaped from the Kurd-infested area of Northeastern Persia; Italian soldiers, detached from field service and detailed to America to serve on returning transports bringing mules and horses from the United States to the Italian army; and lastly Americans.

Date and Route Unknown.

When and by what route the Ancona sailed from Messina, her only port of

TO ASK FOR VOTE OF CREDIT TODAY

Premier Asquith's Plans for Yesterday Delayed.

HE TALKS OF FINANCES

Daily Cost of War Since September 12 Has Been $21,750,000 — Heavy Loans to England's Allies and the Dominions.

London, Nov. 10. — Premier Asquith was to have asked the house of commons today for a vote of credit of 400,000,000 pounds ($2,000,000,000), but some unexpected development prevented him from taking this action, which was postponed until tomorrow. The premier, however, made his expected statement in regard to the financial situation and it pressed upon the nation the necessity of a careful husbanding of its resources.

Including the new vote of credit to be asked tomorrow, the premier pointed out the total amount allotted for war purposes will be $1,662,000 pounds ($8,310,000,000). He presented figures showing that the government had a sufficient sum left over from the previous vote to finance the war to the third week of November.

Daily Cost $21,750,000.

The approximate daily cost of the war between September 12 and November was given by Mr. Asquith as 4,350,000 pounds ($21,750,000). It rose to this figure from 2,700,000 pounds ($13,500,000) in the earlier part of the financial year.

Loans advanced by Great Britain to her allies and dominions between April 1 and November 6, Mr. Asquith said, amountted to 98,000,000 pounds. In the same period 23,000,000 pounds was expended for food supplies and miscellaneous items.

The main causes of increase in the cost of the war, Mr. Asquith continued, were the great expenditures for munitions, nad the advances to Great Britain's allies and dominions. He could hold out no hope that there was any immediate likelihood of a decrease in those two items. On the contrary, they were likely to increase.

Returning to the question of public economy, the premier said the matter had engaged the attention of the government and a special cabinet committee for several months. As a result, there had been much closer investigation of army contract prices and there has been a revision of the scales of the army rations.

Regarding contracts, said the premier, arrangements had been made between the allied governments to avoid competing against one another, either in the home market or in foreign markets, and thus keep down prices.

More Effective Prosecution.

The war office, Premier Asquith continued, already had taken steps to secure a more effective and co-ordinated prosecution of the war on the part of the allied powers by strengthening the British general staff and establishing more intimate inter-communication of

TELL OF EFFECT WAR HAS HAD UPON LABOR

British Delegates Address the American Federation.

C. J. Ammon Says Labor Will Demand a Share in Making Peace—E. Bevin Warns Against Agitation for Armament.

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Today's session of the American Federation of Labor convention was largely given over to addresses by fraternal delegates. C. J. Ammon, of the British Trades Union Congress, said that for England the war had accomplished some things labor had been seeking for decades—nationalization of railways, munitions factories and other activities. Labor, he said, would demand a share in the making of terms of peace. Discussing the lessons which labor learned from the war, Mr. Ammon said "it is up to the men of America to so guard their democracy that they shall not be caught as Europe has been caught."

Ammon was followed by his colleague, E. Bevin, who said that British labor had issued the edict to the British government that there could be no conscription of the body of the nation unless property also was poured into the melting pot. He said that organized British labor had raised the cost of a soldier from 100 pounds to 250 pounds sterling a year and that war

MANY ARE KILLED IN TORNADO THAT SWEEPS 3 STATES

Path of Storm in Parts of Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota 16 Miles Wide.

BUILDINGS DEMOLISHED

Half the Houses in Great Bend, Kans., Reported Wrecked; Details Are Meagre.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 10.—A tornado swept over parts of Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota tonight, wrecking many buildings and killing a number of persons. The extent of the damage and loss of life could not be ascertained definitely tonight because the storm tore down wires and shut off communication for several hours. Estimates of the dead ran as high as 50 or 60.

Great Bend, Kas., reported the worst damage in early dispatches, 12 persons being killed and over 100 injured in that city.

No reports were received from the rural regions and only a few from small towns in the path of the wind storm. A message to the Missouri Pacific railroad said that the tornado swept a path 16 miles wide at some places.

Among the towns in which buildings were reported destroyed were Claflin, Kas.; Hoysington, Kas.; Larned, Kas.; and Hartford, S. D.

Half of Buildings Demolished.

One brief report from Great Bend said that half of the houses in the city were demolished and that the Santa Fe station was razed. Just how the 5,000 residents of Great Bend took care of themselves with half of their homes wrecked, could not be learned. It was reported that fires broke out in the debris of crushed houses, but a heavy rain quenched the flames before they spread to any extent.

An Atchison, Topeka Santa Fe train due at Great Bend at the time the storm broke could not be heard from for several hours and fear was entertained for the train and passengers.

AREA 16 MILES WIDE

Reported Scope of Tornado in Kansas —Several Houses Demolished.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 10.—Messages reaching the Missouri Pacific railroad headquarters here tonight said that the scope of the Kansas tornado was an area at least 16 miles wide. The messages added that several houses in Claflin, Kan., 14 miles from Hersington were demolished.

TWELVE ARE KILLED.

More Than a Hundred Injured at Great Bend, Kans.

Great Bend, Kas., Nov. 10.—Twelve persons were killed and more than 100 injured, many of them seriously, in a cyclone which swept through the residence section of Great Bend at 7:30 tonight.

Asserts Himself for a "Reasonable Preparation."

Says His Views Are Somewhere Between Those of Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt and Others—Filing at Navy Board.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—National preparedness for defense was advocated by former President William H. Taft in an address here tonight before the National Security League. The present position of the Nation and its lack of adequate preparation for defense, together with a review of what additions to the army and navy he considered advisable, were outlined by Mr. Taft who said:

"Do not let us sacrifice the national security to an academic theory or the wish to vindicate it. I find myself somewhere between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Roosevelt and others—utterly at variance with Mr. Bryan's view, but not going as far as Mr. Roosevelt in the amount of preparation needed or practicable," said Mr. Taft.

"Mr. Bryan says that 'No nation is going to attack us and that preparation makes us truculent and aggressive.' Is it more likely that we shall invite war because we are merely ready to defend ourselves, than that nations will attack us because we are helpless? There is only one answer to this question—our people are not for

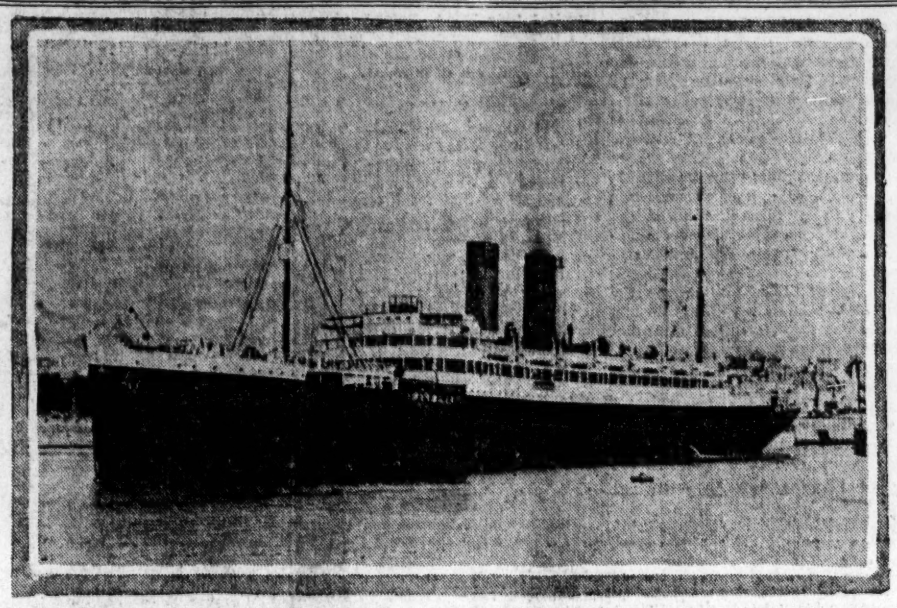
FRENCH LINER ROCHAMBEAU WAS AFIRE AT SEA.



This is the French passenger ship Rochambeau, in the hold of which fire broke out soon after the liner sailed from New York Saturday for Bordeaux, France. The fire was extinguished and the steamer is now proceeding on her voyage. Adding to the local interest in the danger through which the vessel passed was the fact that among the American passengers aboard was Mr. Emple Latimer, formerly a citizen of Wilmington but now a prominent business man of New York. Many friends here were gratified to hear that the fire in the steamer had been extinguished.

MESSAGE IS TO BE BEGUN NEXT WEEK

President Will Discuss Plans With the Cabinet.

HOLDS SESSION FRIDAY

Legislative Programme and Money Question Discussed With Underwood and Pomerene—Kitchin's Constituents Against Him.

Washington, Nov. 10.—President Wilson will begin work next week with his message to Congress. He has called a cabinet meeting for next Friday at which outlines of the work of the government departments and the estimates for the coming year will be discussed and the President will lay the basis for his address to Congress, which, according to his custom, probably will be delivered in person before a joint assembly of both houses.

The legislative programme and ways of raising money were discussed by the President today with Senators Underwood and Pomerene. Mr. Underwood said that he did not see how a bond issue would provide for increased army and navy expenditures since the increase was to be permanent.

"The taxes will have to be increased," he said. "If the people want a larger army and navy they will have to pay for it. Generally speaking, changing the tariff will not meet the situation because the imports have been cut down by the war. Of course the tariff on sugar can be retained, but whether this will be done I do not know."

Mr. Underwood said he was for an adequate army and navy but has not studied the administration plans sufficiently to approve or disapprove them.

Representative Kitchin, who succeeds Mr. Underwood as majority leader in the House, and recently told the President that he could not support the National defense programme, frankly admitted in a statement today that a majority of his constituents were in favor of the President's position on preparedness. Representative Kitchin left for his home to begin a campaign to convince his constituents that he was right and the President wrong.

"I am willing to admit," said Representative Kitchin, "that if a poll of the people of my district were to be taken today on the President's National defense plan, the result would show a great majority in favor of it. But I am just as confident that they will change their minds after the opposition to this programme has been revealed in the discussions that are to come in Congress."

CASHIER DEAD IN ROOM.

A. M. Haddon, of Cornelia, Ga., is Believed a Suicide.

Cornelia, Ga., Nov. 10.—A. M. Haddon, cashier of the First National Bank of Cornelia, was found dead in his bed room here today. Friends indicated their belief that he had shot himself, but assigned no motive for such an act. T. H. Little, president of the bank, stated that an investigation showed that there was no connection between Haddon's death and the institution's business affairs. Haddon, who was about 30 years old, came here several years ago from Rock Hill, S. C.

SHORTAGE OF CARS.

Appeal Made from Toledo, O., to Interstate Commerce Commission.

Toledo, O., Nov. 10.—The produce exchange appealed today to the Interstate Commerce Commission for relief in the car shortage here. It is estimated that nearly one million bushels of grain is waiting to be shipped to the seaboard, but no cars are to be had. The Hocking Valley, Toledo & Ohio Central and the Big Four railroads are said to be involved in the complaints. Hundreds of thousands of bushels of spring wheat have come in by boat for shipment to the seaboard, especially Newport News.

DECLARE MALARIA WILL BE NO MORE

But Southern Physicians Fail to Name Final Date.

UNIFORM HEALTH LAWS

Advocated by Speakers Before Southern Medical Association, Which Discusses Tonsils as Source of Tubercular Infection.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 10.—Means of eradicating malaria, the tonsils as the source of infection of tuberculosis and other diseases, and the need of uniform health laws in the South were discussed at today's sessions of the Southern Medical Association, meeting here in annual convention.

Several physicians declared that malaria eventually would be stamped out, but none would predict when the task would be accomplished. The discussion centered principally on the efficacy of the injection of quinine directly in the veins as a means of quickly curing persons affected and preventing them from becoming carriers of the disease.

Dr. E. T. Wright, of Monroe, La., championed the injection method of treatment and told of more than 200 experiments in a railway hospital at Monroe. Under this treatment, Dr. Wright said, the average stay of the patients in the hospital was shortened two days and the blood was more thoroughly sterilized against infection than by any other method. Dr. R. H. Von Ezdorf, of the United States Public Health Service, doubted the absolute results which seemed apparent from Dr. Wright's experiments and said that the Monroe record was unusual.

Dr. McBrayer Honored.

The malaria discussion closed the session of the public health section, which elected Dr. W. S. Leathers, of the University of Mississippi, president; Dr. Von Ezdorf, vice president, and Dr. L. B. McBrayer, of North Carolina, secretary.

Dr. Aaron Arkin, of Morgantown, W. Va., told of the danger of contracting a number of diseases from affected tonsils, and Dr. D. W. Jones, of Brookhaven, Miss., urged the need of more uniform health regulation in the Southern states.

In the surgical section Dr. W. L. Rodman, of Philadelphia, president of the American Medical Association, lectured on the removal of cancerous growths and in the section on medicine, Dr. Allan Eutis, of Tulane University, New Orleans, advocated a dietary treatment for asthma. By adopting a proper diet, he said, asthmatic patients might be saved the necessity of seeking a change of climate.

Today's convention work proceeded in four sections and the Southern Medical Women's Association also held its third annual convention.

The convention will adjourn tomorrow.

M. DELEVAL IS PERSONALLY OBJECTIONABLE TO GERMANY.

Leaves American Legation at Brussels and Will Not Return.

Washington, Nov. 10.—M. Deleval, a Belgian, employed by the United States as counsellor to the legation at Brussels, has left Belgium and will not return to his post because Germany has given notice that he is persona non grata. The State Department will not admit that Deleval has been removed but announced today that he had left Belgium and will not return. Deleval probably will go to Havre, the present seat of the Belgian government.

Whether his unacceptability to Germany came about through the activities of the American legation staff in the case of Edith Cavell, the British nurse, executed by German military authorities, is not made clear at the State Department, although there are some intimations that it might have been.

ASKS INFORMATION IN ZEALANDIA CASE

An American Ship Forcibly Searched by British.

IN PORT AT PROGRESO

Case May Develop New Points in Neutrality Situation Between Great Britain and United States and Also Involve Mexico.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Great Britain was formally asked today by the United States for information concerning the recent search of the American steamship Zealandia in the Mexican port of Progreso by a landing party from a British cruiser. Ambassador Page was instructed to make the inquiry through the London foreign office. A report from American Consul John W. Germon, at Progreso, stated that the Zealandia was forcibly searched last week from men of a British cruiser now lying outside the harbor, presumably waiting to seize the vessel.

In the absence of complete data, State Department officials were not inclined to comment on the case, but it was indicated that it might develop new points in the neutrality situation prompting Mexico as well as the United States to enter protest to Great Britain.

The Zealandia sailed from the United States for Tampico and was reported to have hoisted a German flag at sea, though this was denied by the owners. She is said to have a German crew aboard and a cargo of rosin consigned to Sweden. Varying reports concerning the alleged purpose of the Zealandia's captain to undertake commerce raiding caused the British admiral in charge of the Atlantic coast patrol to dispatch a vessel to determine the merchantman's status. It is reported the British officer in charge of the boarding party found no armament but the consular report indicated that the ship would be seized as soon as she attempted to leave Progreso.

Since the vessel is American-owned with no change of registry involved, the Washington government desires to know on what grounds search was conducted in a neutral port. In the natural course Mexico also would enter a protest, but as Great Britain has not yet recognized the de facto government in Mexico, the situation is somewhat complicated. In the event that it should develop that the Mexican port authorities had no means of resisting the entry of the British seamen the good offices of the United States to prevent a recurrence of such actions might be enlisted by Mexico. It was suggested here today that if the Zealandia was armed for raiding purposes her sojourn beyond the 24-hour limit in a neutral port, especially where the authorities were powerless to intern her, might be advanced as a justification for entering the territorial waters to seize the vessel. Mere suspicion that a merchant ship is armed, however, is not regarded by officials here as sufficient ground for such action.

MAY MAKE FURTHER INQUIRY

Protests to State Department Against British Order.

Washington, Nov. 10.—A request for further information regarding Great Britain's recent announcement naming a score of vessels flying neutral flags as "suspected" of German ownership is being seriously considered by State Department officials. The newly organized trans-Atlantic line, 11 of whose ships under the American flag are on the "suspected" list, has protested to the department. As one of its vessels already had been condemned by a French prize court, it is unwilling to allow the others to go to sea until the

RENEWED ACTIVITY OF SUBMARINES IS WORRYING ALLIES

Anxious for Safety of Transports Carrying Needed Troops to Near East.

"ANOTHER LUSITANIA"

Anglo-French Holding Against Bulgarians; Much Fighting on Other Fronts.

London, Nov. 10.—The resumed activity of German and Austrian submarines, especially those in the Mediterranean, as evidenced by the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona and the attack on the British transport Mercian, has again brought to the front the unceasing vigilance required by the navies of the Allies to secure the safe transport of the troops needed in the Near East.

The news of the sinking of the Ancona, which reached the British public today in a dispatch from New York, created a sensation and was compared with the destruction of the Lusitania, the London evening papers heading the report of her loss with the world, "Another Lusitania."

Naval writers believe that the navy will be able to contend with the submarines in the Mediterranean as was done in the waters around the British Isles, and already two of them are reported to have been sunk, but for the moment there is natural anxiety for the transports which are proceeding east and because of the possibility of interference with the campaign in the Balkans, where troops are so necessory.

The Anglo-French forces already there are believed to be more than holding their own against the attacks of the Bulgarians, who are trying to destroy the little army before reinforcements can reach it.

But as the Serbians are driven back by the Austro-Germans and Bulgarins and the latter receive additional supplies of munitions, they will be able to assume a stronger offensive in the south. With the French re-occupation of Veles, however, the position of the Bulgarians at Uskup and west of that town is precarious.

Much Fighting Elsewhere.

On the other fronts there is much fighting despite the unfavorable weather conditions. The Russians have, by repeated attacks, re-gained some ground around Riga and Dvinsk; have driven the Germans further back from the Dvina river, and in the south are repeating their thrusts with the object of preventing the Germans and Austrians from entrenching.

In fact, Generals Ruzsky and Ivanoff and their colleagues are proving that it is dangerous for the Germans to weaken their fronts to support the Balkan western lines.

The Italians, likewise, continue their aggressive tactics and have added another mountain position to their gains in Trentino.

The British are having a rather quiet time while the French in the western zone have had to contend with only a few minor attacks. There is a report current that the Germans contemplate another offensive in the west, such as they put into effect a year ago.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

Leyland Liner Figured Largely in the Titanic Disaster.

London, Nov. 10.—The British steamer Californian, a vessel of 6,223 tons, has been sunk.

The Californian was a Leyland Line steamer of 6,223 tons gross register; 447 feet long, 53 feet beam, and 30 feet depth, built at Dundee in 1902. Many months ago she was taken over by the British for government service. The Californian figured prominently in the story of the Titanic disaster, having been near the scene of the wreck but not having gone to the rescue.

TWENTY-THREE MEN KILLED.

Fifty Wounded When Submarine Attacks British Transport.

London, Nov. 10.—Twenty-three men were killed and 50 wounded in an attack by gun fire from a submarine on the British transport Mercian in the Mediterranean. The Mercian escaped and reached port. Announcement of the attack on the Mercian was made tonight by the British war office as follows:

"The outward bound transport Mercian was attacked by gun fire from an enemy submarine in the Mediterranean. She reached harbor safely with casualties of 23 killed, 30 missing and 50 wounded, who were landed and are in a hospital."

STEAMER FRANCE TORPEDOED.

Attacked by Submarine in the Mediterranean Sunday.

Paris, Nov. 10.—The French steamer France, owned by the Societe Generale Des Transports Maritimes a Vapeur, of Marseilles, was torpedoed by a submarine in the Mediterranean on Sunday last, according to information reaching here tonight. Of the crew of 73, four men were wounded. All the crew were rescued, being landed at Cagliari, on the southern coast of Sardinia Island.

A dispatch from Cagliari to the Giornale D'Italia, which was forwarded here from Rome, gave the impression at first that the vessel destroyed was the 24,000 ton steamer France, of the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique,

NEW EMPEROR OF JAPAN ENTHRONED

Yoshihito Was Yesterday Consecrated at Kioto.

GREAT CROWDS ATTEND

Service of Ancestor Worship Held and a Ceremony Was Addressed to the Gods and One to the People. Americans There.

Kioto, Japan, Nov. 10.—In Kioto, the ancient capital of Japan, Yoshihito was consecrated Emperor today. For days the weather has been wet and gloomy. At the moment Yoshihito bowed down before the ancestral Sun goddess today the rays of the sun flashed over the mountain, dissipating the clouds. According to legend the Sun goddess in prehistoric ages emerged from her rocky cave and filled the whole universe with glory.

The appearance of the sun today is interpreted by the people of Japan as a good omen of an auspicious reign of Yoshihito and of the destiny of the empire.

The first part of the principal ceremonies held this morning consisted of a ritual service of ancestor worship, which struck a note of religious mysticism. This afternoon Yoshihito was enthroned. The morning ceremony was addressed to the gods, it seemed, and the other to the people.

Foreigners Deeply Impressed.

The foreigners who witnessed the coronation were deeply impressed with the scene which took them back to the days of old Japan. The American women were particularly interested in the sight of the Japanese noblewomen in ancient court robes.

The American ambassador, George W. Guthrie, expressed himself as moved by the solemnity of the occasion. Post Wheeler, first secretary of the American embassy, who is studying the mythology of Japan, spoke of the immobility and silence of the people until Premier Okuma called "Banzai", when the on-looking throng took up the cry and acclaimed the monarch.

Kioto is tonight crowded with persons from all parts of the empire and many from foreign lands. The streets of the city are filled with countless promenaders, bearing lanterns.

The foreign women who attended the coronation were confronted with the problem of averting the risk of illness occasioned by sitting in open pavilions while clad in decollet gowns. They solved the problem by carrying miniature charcoal heaters with them.

While the Emperor was speaking this afternoon Rear Admiral Winterhalter was seized with dizziness and forced to retire. His illness was not serious.

Premier Okuma, who is old and infirm, was assisted by three retainers who resembled ancient Samurai as he mounted to his place before the throne to respond to the Emperor's address. "The whole world resounds with high praises to Your Majesty."

The American naval officers who have come to Kiota for the coronation were entertained by Admiral Togo.

Bryan Disagrees Again With Wilson

BECAUSE SCRIPTURE CITED ON PREPAREDNESS WAS FROM OLD TESTAMENT—"IS ALL RIGHT FOR ROOSEVELT."

Washington, Nov. 10.—Former Secretary Bryan today added a chapter to his disagreement with President Wilson over the question of National defense by issuing a formal statement in comment on the President's recent quotation from the Scriptures in support of his advocacy of military preparedness. The same quotation had been used by Colonel Roosevelt in a recent published article.

"It is not surprising that Mr. Roosevelt should consult the Old Testament rather than the New," said Mr. Bryan's statement, "because he classes Christ with the mollycoddles, but why should the President, a Presbyterian elder, pass over the New gospel in which Love is the chief cornerstone and held as defense upon a passage in the Old Testament written at a time when the children of Israel were surrounded by enemies?

"It is all right for Mr. Roosevelt to sound the trumpet because all colors are red to him. He sees armies marching against us from every direction, but the President is a man of peace and he is in a position to know that no one is threatening to attack us. It is surprising, first that in looking up Bible authority he should ignore the teachings of Christ, and second, that he should select a passage that refers, not to preparation against imaginary dangers, but immediate action to meet an attack actually made. What the world needs today is a Pentecost, not an Armageddon."

RESTRAINS CERTAIN CLAUSES SHOE MACHINERY CONTRACTS

Government Secures Temporary Injunction in District Court.

St. Louis, Nov. 10.—A temporary injunction restraining the United Shoe Machinery Company, from enforcing seven clauses in its contracts with shoe manufacturers was issued in the Federal district court here today on petition of the Federal government which has an anti-trust suit pending against the company under the Clayton law.

Contract clauses held illegal provide that the lessee of a machine shall not use it on footwear that has not had certain other operations performed by one of the United machines; that the machine shall be used to its full capacity and exclusively for the work for which it is designed; that the lessee shall obtain from the United Shoe Machinery Company at its price, duplicate parts and all supplies used on the machine and that he shall lease from the United Shoe Machinery Company any additional machines heeded in the same department.

CANNOT COUNT ON OUR CONSCIOUS RECTITUDE

To Protect Us From the Hatred of the Belligerents.

Waterways Convention Hears Military Preparedness Urged and Seaman's Act Criticised—Saulsbury and McSweeney Heard.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 10. — Military preparedness urged as a commercial necessity and for national surety by Senator Willard Saulsbury, of Delaware, and an attack on the La Follette Seamen's act, as a means which would "enable Great Britain and Japan to monopolize the seas," by Edward F. McSweeney, chairman of the directors of the port of Boston, featured the sessions of the convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association here today.

Delegations began bidding for the next convention today, and Boston, Trenton and Baltimore were favorably mentioned.

Mr. McSweeney also declared in his address that while Germany and England at present were marooned commercially and industrially, the end of the war would bring them together again, "with the United States as the common foe—the easy mark of the seven seas."

Senator Saulsbury in discussing the American situation, said: "We cannot count on our conscious rectitude of action or intention to protect us from the hatred of the belligerents."

He declared that America's assertions of its rights as a neutral probably would incur the enmity of many of the fighting powers.

"Then will come a time," he said, "when we must stand prepared to resist aggression."

war now or at any time except to stop wrong. The assumption that all nations will do us justice will not secure justice."

Mr. Taft outlined what he termed "reasonable preparation." He said the American navy should be equal to that of Germany. Not the size of England's, he said, because of Great Britain's habit of arbitration for a hundred years and because it has no standing army. He said American coast defenses were as good as any in the world but that the navy needed a 50 per cent. increase, including 18,000 men and 900 officers. The National Guard should be increased to 125,000 men and the standing army to 75,000 with a volunteer reserve of 300,000 men.

Speaking of the administration's defense plans he said, "The board of inventors is as impractical as a board of opera singers." A board of naval experts was needed. He declared, however, that the "change of heart of the administration as to defense is a good sign and we should welcome it."

The Philippine policy of the administration he termed "misleading and foolish," and of the recognition of Carranza, he said: "We hope Carranza will win—if not we lose our bet and we shall be nearer than ever to intervention by our policy."

attitude of the allied governments is more definitely known.

All of the trans-Atlantic line ships have been transformed to American registry since the war began, but line officials say the stock of the corporation is all American-owned.

The vessel seized by the French was the Solveig which was condemned "by default."

The British announcement, a copy of which has been transmitted to the State Department, warns British subjects not to use the "suspected" ships, but does not state specifically they will be considered subject to seizure because of the status of their ownership.

President Wagner, of the trans-Atlantic line, in appealing to the department said the sailing of two ships was being delayed until it is determined whether they are considered subject to seizure. They are the Winnebago, at Buenos Aires, loaded with lumber for New York, and the Winneconnie, now at New York.

the military and naval advisers of all the allied powers.

With regard to the relations between the British staff and those of the allied powers, it would be a great mistake, the premier said, to suppose that they had been living in water-tight compartments without communicating with one another. There was a British military attache at French headquarters and a distinguished visitor in attendance at the war office at London, while arrangements now had been made for more intimate co-operation and for the interchange of views for common development of plans for all the military operations in the different theatres of war.

"It is more than possible," added the premier, "that this organization may be still further developed."

"I am betraying no secret," continued the premier, "when I say that the distinguished man who now holds the post of prime minister to France is anxious—and I am as anxious as he is—that we should develop the system of informal occasional conferences which have taken place in the last few months with great advantage into something more definite and better organized. Neither he nor I is without hope that before long we shall have something in the nature of a war council, on which shall sit ministers of the crown and ministers of the republic, which will, with the expert advice of their united general staffs, control and direct our conjoint military and naval operations.

"I do not place any limit on the extent to which this co-operation will be carried, and we shall be only too delighted if Russia and Italy join us for the purpose I have indicated."

AID IN CONGRESS WAS NOT SOUGHT

Mellen Declines to Admit the Charge Against Directors.

HIS MEMORY FAILS HIM

Recalled Only What Record Showed Regarding Efforts Alleged to Put Enterprise Steamboat Company Out of Business.

New York, Nov. 10.—Charles S. Mellen, testifying at the trial of his eleven former fellow directors on the board of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, extricated them today from the charge of having sought to use political influence in Congress to hamper a New Haven competitor. Through a failure in his memory, he also was unable to supply the government with possible evidence of a purpose on the part of the New Haven to crush another competitor.

The government sought to show today the New Haven desired to prevent congressional legislation intended to make the Connecticut river navigable above Hartford, the road's purpose being, the government contended, to make steamboat competition beyond that point impossible.

Mr. Mellen smilingly declined to admit that the subject had been considered by the New Haven board prior to the acquisition of the Hartford & New York Transportation Company, a steamboat line.

Judge Hunt then ordered stricken from the record on the ground of irrelevency, a letter written by Mellen to Timothy E. Byrnes, reputed to have been a legislative agent for the New Haven at Washington. This letter, dated January 29, 1904, read:

"Your favor of the 26th relative to the improvement of the Connecticut river between Hartford and Springfield is at hand. You understand I want you to keep track of this matter and keep me advised of the situation and do the best you know how to hold it up and in such a way that this company may not be suspected of having any part in the transaction. You may take such interest in the matter from time to time as may occur to you and bear in mind I am depending upon you solely to look out for our interests. Senator Platt, of Connecticut, will unquestionably co-operate with any way you desire if you call upon him."

His Memory Fails.

Mr. Mellen's failure of memory came when the prosecution was seeking to prove that the Joy Steamship Company, during the time that it was secretly owned by the New Haven, was used to drive the Enterprise Steamboat Company out of business. R. L. Batts, of government counsel, put into the record minutes of a meeting of the New England Navigation Company's directors, who were the same as the New Haven's, at which they voted to advance the Joy Steamship Company $135,000 to buy a steamship "to take the low rate business to Fall River."

"Was this steamer to compete with the Enterprise Company?" asked Mr. Batts.

"I only know what the record shows," said the witness.

"Do you recall what was done?"

"I do not. I don't know anything outside the record."

At the request of the defense a letter was introduced by which it appeared that the object of putting on the new boat was to encourage a cheap emmigrant service between New York and New England points.

The government today temporarily withdrew its request to be allowed to amend its bill of particulars, so as to include Stevenson Taylor as a co-conspirator, Taylor, it was brought out yesterday, acted for the New Haven in the acquisition of the stock of the New London Steamboat Company in 1901.

TELL OF EFFECT WAR HAS HAD UPON LABOR

would stop should the price of it become higher. Touching upon America's present agitation for armament he said:

"Your newspapers are using the very arguments that the armament ring used in Europe to bring about the present arming. The same man must have written them. I hope America won't come into the war. Soon democracy will have to choose between despotism and itself in Europe, and America's help is needed. War started because democracy moved too slowly. Stay with us that labor may abolish war.

"The man who says war is a biologic necessity ought to shoot himself. The Turkish shells that sunk British ships in the Dardanelles were made by British capital."

Important among resolutions introduced today were the following: Opposing the opening of coastwise shipping to foreign vessels; protecting against any alteration or repeal of the seamen's act; proposing support of the administration programme for the establishment of a merchant marine manner by American seamen.

Others protest stop-watch timing of government workmen; supporting an eight-hour day in all shipbuilding yards; employing only American citizens in the construction of government works; proposing better government compensation for retired Federal employes and endorsement of the civil service retirement measure and denouncing the persecution of members and of officers of the International Garment Workers' Union, as a "revolting surrender of the machinery of justice to the enemies of labor," and pledging funds to defend the remaining members of the union to be tried in connection with the riots of the garment workers' strike. The convention adjourned until Friday morning.

BETHLEHEM STEEL COMPANY SUFFERS GREAT LOSS BY FIRE.

Loss Estimated at From One to Four Million Dollars When Shop Burns.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 10.—Fire virtually destroyed the No. 4 machine shop of the Bethlehem Steel Company here today with an estimated loss of from $1,000,000 to $4,000,000. The building destroyed was recently reconstructed and equipped with machinery at a cost of about $3,000,000 Eight hundred guns among other war material were in process of manufacture in the shop. The company issued a statement that the fire was due to a crossed electric wire circuit.

call after leaving Naples, were unknown. Her sailing schedule, subject to change as exigencies might require, called for her departure from Messina yesterday afternoon. Leaving there, her captain would be guided, the agents said, by admiralty orders issued to every departing liner.

These orders generally are sealed and are opened and read only after a vessel steamed out of port.

The choice of two routes lay open to the admiralty in issuing its orders to the Ancona's captain—a course through the Messina strait and south of the Island of Sicily, between the islands and Malta; or north of the Island of Sicily and through the Tyrrhenian sea toward Gibraltar. Which course was taken was only a matter of surmise, but the agent's opinion was that the steamer had sailed north of Sicily.

The Austrian submarine reported to have torpedoed and sunk the Ancona, it was thought here, probably was lying in wait at or near the entrance to the Malta channel, which is a narrow strip of the Mediterrahean between Sicily and the coast of Africa. Austrian and German submarines have been active in this region of late, according to cable reports.

ABOUT 27 AMERICANS LOST

Belief Expressed in Cablegram From Ambassador Page at Rome.

Washington, Nov. 10.—About 27 Americans are believed to have been lost with the torpedoed Italian liner Ancona, according to a cable to the State Department tonight from Ambassador Page at Rome. The ambassador said the probable victims of the tragedy were Alexander Pattativo, his wife and four children, of New York, and Mrs. Frances Mascolo Lamura, and about twenty unnamed third class passengers. Mrs. Cecil L. Griel was named as the one known American survivor among the passengers.

Ambassador Page and American consuls throughout Italy were instructed today by Secretary Lansing to cable immediately all information they could gather concerning the torpedoing of the Ancona.

No Real Tension Felt.

Advices that a number of Americans probably had lost their lives caused much concern in official quarters. There was no real tension, however, because news dispatches which referred to the shelling of the Ancona by the Austrian submarine led to the belief generally among officials that the Italian vessel ignored warning and was attempting to escape. This in the view of this government would justify a submarine commander in the use of force.

Should it develop that no warning was given, a note demanding disavowal reparation and assurances that the incident would not be repeated would be sent to Austria. Officials made it clear they did not consider that Austria was legally bound by the exchanges between her ally, Germany, and the United States.

ITALY IS INDIGNANT.

Not Known Whether Any American-Born Passengers Were on Ancona.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 10.—Sinking of the steamer Ancona by a hostile submarine has caused intense indignation among the Italian public generally. Thus far Mr. Page, the American ambassador, has been unable to ascertain definitely whether there were any American-born passengers aboard the Ancona. The Rome office of the Italian line, to which the Ancona belonged, likewise is in the dark in this respect. It was said there today that an American family had intended to sail by the Ancona, but that their reservation had been cancelled, and that it was unknown whether any Americans had booked passage through the Naples office. Attempts to communicate with the Naples office were prevented by the stringent military regulations.

Owing to the recent activity of hostile submarines in the Mediterranean, orders have been issued to the Italian fleet to redouble their efforts to capture or destroy these underwater craft and also to watch particularly and attempt to guard steamers plying between the Mediterranean and the United States and also in the Otranto canal.

The orders also are that the Italian fleet shall endeavor to prevent Austrian submarines leaving the Adriatic sea or for those now outside those waters, to return to their bases for fresh supplies. The Greek coast islands also are to be closely patrolled in the fear that hostile craft may use them in obtaining fuel, as did the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau at the beginning of the war. The French and British fleets are co-operating with the Italians.

ANCONA INCREASED SPEED.

Pursuing Submarine Slowly Caught Up and Began Firing.

London, Nov. 10.—Rome and Milan dispatches to the London morning papers allege that when the submarine gave chase the Ancona increased her speed but the submarine slowly caught up to her and began firing repeatedly hitting the stern of the vessel. Scenes of panic occurred aboard the Ancona when eventually the captain gave up his attempt to escape, whereupon, after further shelling the submarine fired a torpedo. The Ancona listed and began to sink. There was no time to lower all the boats. Many of the passengers who were rescued jumped overboard with life belts.

A wireless call for help brought the French steamer Piedan (Plaidan) and several launches to the scene. They made many rescues.

It is thought possible that the same submarine sank the Marseilles steamer France which had disembarked a thousand French troops at Mudros, Lemnos Island.

The new trans-Atlantic liner Giuseppe Verdi left Naples a few hours after the Ancona and has arrived safely at Gibraltar.

SAYS 300 WERE LOST

Report to London Says Most of Drowned Were Women and Children.

London, Nov. 10.—A dispatch to Lloyds' from Bizerta says that 300 persons on the Ancona were drowned. Most of the lost, the message says, were women and children emigrants. One hundred and thirty survivors have thus far reached Bizerta.

ATTEMPTED TO ESCAPE

Berlin Reports Vessel Was Sunk by Austro-Hungarians.

Berlin, Nov. 10 (by Wireless to Sayville).—"Information from a reliable source is that the steamship Ancona was sunk by an Austro-Hungarian submarine," says the Overseas News Agency. "She attempted to escape and thus compelled the submarine to use her guns."

BRITISH SITUATION OF GREAT GRAVITY

Baron Devonport Discusses Military Expenditures.

CHANGE IS SUGGESTED

Debate in House of Lords on Motion That It is Government's Duty to Exercise More Effective Supervision and Control.

London, Nov. 10.—During the debate in the house of lords this evening on a motion of Viscount Peel declaring it to be the duty of the government to exercise more effective supervision and control of naval and military expenditures, Baron Devonport said the country could not go on as it had been doing indefinitely and maintain financial solvency. He added that the situation was one of great gravity.

The Marquis of Crewe, lord president of the council, who replied, said that the main bulk of the expenditure was on account of the importation of munitions and loans to the Allies and the British dominions.

Lord Peel, in support of his motion, said that the figures which were given as to the expenditure on war and civil establishments for a full year approached very nearly to the aggregate amount of the income of the nation. The gigantic sums which were being spent were staggering to the ablest financiers and great caution was necessary in controlling national finances.

Lord Devonport thought it likely that the government would have to resort to a forced loan. "We cannot go on indefinitely and maintain our financial solvency," he said. "There is no doubt that the next war loan will be suscribed. But what of the loan after that and the loan after that again?"

"Could not the government," he continued, "close the door to goods not essential to the country's existence?" He estimated that the country imported from $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 worth of goods which could be done without. The government, he urged, should have courage to recast the system of separation allowances so that no family should have more than it received before the war. This would save from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 a year.

Baron Joicey, who is a large colliery owner, said he had no hesitation in saying that the financial situation of the country at the present time was causing a great deal of anxiety. The government, he declared, did not seem really to grasp the financial position, the waste, extravagance and reckless expenditure taking place throughout the country in connection with military affairs.

In reply the Marquis of Crewe said that everybody now realized national strain imposed by the war. The importation of munitions and loans to the Allies and dominions represented $1,750,000,000 for a half year. It was obvious, therefore, that financial anxiety must be principally on the question of exchange. At the same time, he did not think he would like to change positions with Germany where the question of foreig nexchange was relatively small.

Lord Crewe made reference to the cabinet committee on economy, of which Premier Asquith also spoke in the House of Commons, and said that the savings proposed with regard to army rations would amount to something like $27,500,000. He concluded by expressing the conviction that for the whole course of the war sound international finance and domestic economy should go hand in hand.

"If this rule is persevered in," he said, "we will find that when the war is ended we are standing on the firm rock of financial stability, while our enemies will be floundering deeply in the swamp into which their feet are already beginning to subside." The debate will be resumed tomorrow.

SCHOOL INSPECTION STARTS

Alamance County Begins Medical School Inspection.

(State Board of Health.)

Work of medical school inspection begins Monday, November 15, in Alamance county. The State Board of Health, on co-operation with the county board of education, will have the work in charge, and Dr. T. M. Jordan, of Raleigh, will be the medical inspector. For three months Dr. Jordan will give his entire time to visiting the 57 white schools, examining and reporting the special defects of school children, and to teaching health and health conditions to the school and the community.

On November 29, the same system of work starts in Northampton county. Dr. A .C. Bulla, of Asheboro, will be the physician in charge. Dr. Bulla has recently returned from Philadelphia where he took special training in the Philadelphia schools under Dr. Charles S. Cornell. Probably medical school inspection has reached its highest efficiency thus far in this country in the Philadelphia schools.

Several other counties have made application to the State Board of Health for this feature of health work, whose applications are now pending.

GIVEN NO CHANCE TO ESCAPE

Reports Say Ancona Stopped When Warning Shot Was Fired.

Rome, Nov. 10, (via Paris).—Additional reports received here are that the Ancona was sunk without an opportunity for her passengers to escape. The reports say that the submarine first fired a warning shot whereupon Ancona immediately stopped. Two shots then struck the ship, one forward and one aft, but it is uncertain whether they came from a gun or were torpedoes, after the Ancona sent a wireless for help.

An explosion resulted from one of the shots and the steamer sunk rapidly before the boats could be lowered or help arrived from the wireless call. The authorities here declare that the disaster is a clear case of a submarine sinking a merchant ship without giving adequate opportunity for the passengers to escape.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Former President William H. Taft told newspaper men here tonight that he was out of politics and added: "As a citizen I may say without qualification that Elihu Root, of New York, is the one man who answers the requirements of the time for the Presidency." Mr. Taft said he looked for a Republican victory in 1916.

Later advices, which were meagre, reported the steamer as belonging to the Marsealles company. This steamer of late has been plying between France and African and other Mediterranean ports.

ANGLO-HUNGARIAN EDITORS HELD IN $25,000 BAIL EACH

Arrested in New York Charged With Attempted Extortion.

New York, Nov. 10.—Alexander and Victor Gondos, editors of newspapers published in English and Hungarian at Bridgeport, Conn., who were arrested here yesterday charged with attempted extortion, were today held in $25,000 bail each for examination on Friday by Magistrate Due), in Tombs court.

Preceding their arraignment, the men were put through a lengthy examination by the police, and agents of the Departments of Justice, after which the police announced that the brothers had furnished important information concerning "agents of the Central Powers" in this country, and regarding Austro-Hungarian agents who visited Bridgeport shortly before the labor troubles in munition factories there last summer.

According to the police, the brothers charged that Julius Pirniter, president of the Trans-Atlantic Trust Company, of New York who caused their arrest, was the agent here for the Central Powers and furnished funds for the activities of Lieutenant Robert Fay and others. Pirnitzer emphatically denied the accusation and the police said no evidence was forthcoming to substantiate the charge.

ITALIAN STEAMER AFIRE.

Little Hope of Saving Oil Laden Liviletta, Says Message.

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 10.—Wireless messages tonight reported that fire in the hold of the oil laden Italian steamer Levietta was spreading and indicated that there was little hope of saving the vessel. Efforts were being made to beach the steamer. The Levietta which sailed from Port Arthur, Texas, yesterday for Buenos Ayres, was discovered to be on fire when the vessel was 65 miles off Sabine bar. The steamer Gulf Stream and several tugs are standing by. The crew was taken off by a tug.

FIRE RAGING IN TRENTON.

Started in a Rope Factory Early This Morning.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 11.—Fire which started in the rope mill of the Joe A. Roebling's Sons Co., early today had almost destroyed the building, a four-story structure, an hour later. The fire is still raging and firemen are trying to prevent it from spreading to other buildings nearby.

CHINA NOT TO MAKE CHANGE IN GOVERNMENT THIS YEAR.

However, Re-Establishment of Monarchy Has Not Been Abolished.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Confirmation of press dispatches from Peking saying the Chinese government had announced that no change would be made in the form of government this year has reached Washington. There has been no abandonment of the project for restoration of the monarcy, however, and the announcement is in line with the original programme laid down by the council of state when it submitted to the Chinese people proposed restoration of the monarchy.

So rapidly and smoothly has the balloting progressed in the various Chinese provinces with large majority in favor of the change, that, according to official advices here, some of the leading promoters of the monarchical idea were impressed witn the feasibility of cutting short the preliminaries and proclaiming the monarchy immediately upon the count of electoral returns. It is understood, however, that Japanese opposition to summary proceedings in a matter of such importance may have influenced the Chinese cabinet in concluding to adhere to the original programme and permit a citizens' convention to assemble and do its work in due course.

ENGLAND IS SPENDING MONEY EXTRAVAGANTLY

Even the Poorer Families are Living in Luxury

Strong Warnings Against the Profuse Expenditures Have Been Given by Economists—Conditions Are Causing Excitement.

(Correspondence of Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 30.—How completely the war has baffled the foresight of economic experts is shown by the remarkable wave of surface prosperity which the masses of Great Britain are experiencing. Only a little more than a year ago political economists were discussing seriously the need for organizing public works on a great scale for the tens of thousands who would be thrown out of employment. No financier like Sir George Paish, editor of the Economist, and Edwin Montagu, the financial secretary to the Treasury, are sounding strong warnings against the extravagant living of the nation as a whole. "Money is being squandered on all sides," declared Sir George Paish in a recent speech, and the newspapers are taking up the same cry.

The conditions which the war has developed, have settled the problem of public works on lines which apparently were not foreseen. The enormous increase of the British army to three million men, and the demand for workers in the public and private munitions works, has absorbed all the available manhood of the country procurable on a basis of voluntary service, and given a great surplus of employment to the United States. Money is being discharged freely, and even lavishly and extravagantly to contractors and to workingmen, and for the support of the families of soldiers, according to the economists, and it is being spent by the people at large with equal lavishness and extravagance.

These conditions cause excited debate by all classes. In the enormous redistribution of wealth the general drift would appear to be from the hands of the rich and the middle classes into the pockets of the workingmen and the families of soldiers. While the workers furnish a majority of the men under arms, the people with large estates and those with savings and middle class incomes believe that they furnish, through taxation and war loans, the bulk of the money which is carrying on the war, and which finds its way down through the government and contractors to the small merchants and workmen. This results in the enforcement of unusual economy upon the wealthy and the middle classes, (except those concerned in war work, who are many), and encourages unusually free spending in the statum usually most economical. While the Covent Garden Opera has been suspended during the war time, the theatres of the masses, and the picture shows are prospering. The hotels and restaurants supported by the wealthy pass their dividends. The popular resorts are doing good business. Tailors and fashionable dress makers claim to be suffering great depression but the wives and daughters of workingmen are dressed better than ever before in their lives. Wine merchants are putting up their shutters, but the public houses where beer and gin are consumed are crowded.

Mr. Montagu complained of great spending on luxuries, and cited the fact that the sale of pianos has increased. He called upon every citizen to be prepared to put at least one-half of his current income at the disposal of the state. The wealthy classes of England would not agree that the luxury and extravagance charge is practiced by them. No observer could fail to credit them with accepting the enormous war taxes imposed upon incomes with a remarkable patriotism and resignation.

Speaking for the other side of the case, Sir Alfred Mond, a wealthy manufacturer, told the House of Commons that men from the agricultural districts who formerly earned four dollars a week are getting $15 and $20 from the government, and men are being paid $5 a day for putting up huts for the soldiers. Annan Bryce, brother of the former ambassador to America, testified that boys who formerly worked for $2 a week are being paid by the government more than $10 for carrying the bags of government carpenters.

A writer in the Daily Mail says: "I met a man who, without any previous experience as a craftsman, was earning from six to eight pounds a week ($30 to $40) making shell cases in a certain government munitions factory. I am told that workmen in Birmingham now drive up to their daily task in taxicabs, and that in that fortunate city the shops are doing a trade in expensive luxuries such as have never been known before."

Extravagant payments to contractors, and to buyers and experts who have been taken into government employ, is a complaint against the government levied by many business men. Corruption is not charged, but high and wasteful disbursements due to ignorance of business affairs on the part of officials and the necessity for making hurried contracts. The country would not suffer so much from these conditions if it was self-contained like Germany and money merely flowed in a circle from the government into the hands of the people and back to the government in taxes and loans. But Britain is importing enormous quantities of goods for the use of the people, besides war supplies, and the exports do not balance the imports by many millions.

Advocates of economy in the popular press take advantage of the opportunity to call upon the government for retrenchment. The office of Lord Chancellor alone, with almost nominal duties, is costing $125,000 a year. Lord Buckmaster, recently the head of the Press Bureau, is drawing the salary of $50,000, while his predecessor, Lord Haldane, and two other former incumbents of the office are receiving pensions of $25,000 each. The two law officers of the Crown, the attorney general and the solicitor general, are compensated chiefly by fees which amount to about $100,000 for each official. Several cabinet ministers draw salaries of $25,000. The payment of $2,000 salaries to members of the house of commons is a comparatively new law. The writers for newspapers which circulate among the working classes call upon government officials to set the example in responding to Mr. Montagu's appeal to citizens to place half their incomes at the disposal of the government.

MORE THAN 1,000 REPUBLICAN POSTMASTERS HOLDING JOBS

Of the First, Second and Third Classes —Some in This State.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.—More than one thousand Republican postmasters of the first, second and third class are still holding their jobs, notwithstanding the fact that the Democratic administration has now been in power nearly three years. This information was contained in a statement issued by Postmaster General Burleson tonight, giving the list of offices where postmasters had not been named since March 4, 1915.

The following offices in North Carolina are still held by Republicans: Greensboro, Belton, Edenton, Moravian Falls, Southern Pines, Tabor, Waynesboro, Wilkesboro and Williamston.

The term of Postmaster Douglass at Greensboro expires early next year. It is understood here that A. Wayland Cooke will be recommended for the place by Major Stedman. Unless Senator Simmons opposes his confirmation because of Cooke's support of Governor Kitchin in the senatorial contest, it is assumed that Mr. Cooke will be confirmed and will take charge of the office immediately upon the expiration of Postmaster Douglass's term.

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition.

Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are untarnished, unexaggerated truisms about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food-tonic, truthfully advertised.

Greenville, S. C., Nov. 10.—State and county officials have taken cognizance of the situation which might arise when the Judson cotton mills here are re-opened November 15. For more than two weeks 700 operatives have been on strike. Four hundred are expected to return to work November 15. Sheriff Rector announced today that he will swear in many special deputies to guard the plant. Governor Manning has called Sheriff Rector to Columbia, for a conference on the situation.

CROUP AND COLDS TREATED BY GOWANS

Severe cases of croup have bee known to yield to an external trea ment known as Gowans, in 15 minute and it is said that one application o the chest and throat at night befor going to bed rarely fails to break u the worse attack. It seems unfair to the little ones to let them suffer when such easy, quick relief is within reach of all. Then again, when croup and colds are neglected, serious results follow. Gowans is absolutely safe to use, even on the most delicate children, as it is applied externally to the chest and other affected parts, and when covered over with a warm flannel cloth, it goes straight to the spot and breaks up the inflamation and congestion. Here is one of many thousands of testimonials: Prof. R A. Peters, Atchison, Kans., writes: "cannot endorse Gowans Preparatio too highly. Have used it for croup o my little boy and have always foun it effective and immediately so." As your druggist for a bottle. THREE CASES FROM NEW HANOVER ARE DECIDED

In Batch of 13 Opinions Filed by Supreme Court.

Judge Justice Reversed in City of Wilmington vs. Mattie and Eliza Moore—Foard vs. Tidewater Power Co. Reversed.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 10.—The Supreme Court delivered opinions this afternoon in thirteen appeals; the list being as follows: Wooten vs. Hobbs, Green county, affirmed; Foard vs. Power Co., New Hanover, reversed; Wilson & Adams vs. Lewis et al., Columbus, no error; City of Wilmington vs. Moore & Williams, New Hanover, reversed; McKinnon Company vs. Caulk, Robeson, new trial; Steljes vs. Simmons, New Hanover, affirmed; State vs. Goodson, Surry, affirmed; Nicholson vs. Express Company, Granville, reversed; Peace vs. Edwards, Granville, affirmed; in re will of Rawlins, Rockingham, no error; Klunk vs. Bowen, Forsyth, no error; Rosebacher vs. Martin, Forsyth, error.

In City of Wilmington vs. Mattie and Eliza Moore the Supreme Court reversed Judge Justice, who had allowed a demurrer in proceeding for the collection of back taxes, the demurrer being on the ground that the suit could not be maintained until means of collection by Levy and sale had been tried out under Section 2887. Justice Hoke, writing the opinion of the Supreme Court, declared that the suit by the city was under legislative enactment and not under foreclosure as by sheriff or tax collector and that the pending suit was fully warranted by the legislative sanction. "There was error in sustaining the demurrer," says the court, and this ruling will be certified that the trial of the cause may be proceeded with.

There is also reversal of the lower court in the damage suit of John Hanby Foard vs. Tide Water Power Company, in which a verdict for $1,500 was ootained below. The Supreme Court finds that in no case did the Power Company fail to perform its duty toward the plaintiff. "We think," says the court, "non-suit should be allowed on plaintiff's own evidence."

PENDER COURT IN SESSION

No Important Criminal Cases on Docket This Term—Judge Daniels.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Nov. 10.—Superior court convened here Monday morning with Judge Daniels presiding and Solicitor Lyon representing the State as prosecuting attorney, this being a criminal term. After a lengthy and exhaustive charge to the grand jury, the court settled down to business and it is expected that the criminal docket will be cleared by Thursday, there being no very important cases. The jail is quite full of negroes, but the charges mostly are of trivial nature, larceny, blind tigering, assault, etc. It is expected that any of the prisoners that get road sentences will be put to work on the roads of Burgaw township instead of being sent to Sampson county, as heretofore, this township having voted a tax for road improvement. Mr Jesse Lucas, of Currie, is foreman of the grand jury.

A very large crowd was in town yesterday to see Sparks Shows which gave a performance yesterday afternoon and another last night, after giving the biggest parade in the forenoon ever seen here.

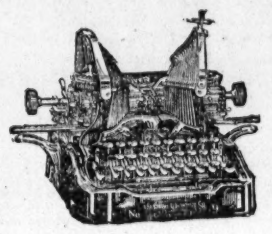
A New Model Typewriter

The No. 9 OLIVER
The Standard Visible Writer



BUY IT NOW!

Yes, the crowning typewriter triumph is here!

It is just out—and comes years before experts expected it. For makers have striven a lifetime to attain this ideal machine. And Oliver has won again, as we scored when we gave the world its first visible writing.

There is truly no other typewriter on earth like this new Oliver "9." Think of touch so light that the tread of a kitten will run the keys!

CAUTION!

The new-day advances that come alone on this machine are all controlled by Oliver. Even our own previous models — famous in their day — never had the Optional Duplex Shift.

It puts the whole control of 84 letters and characters in the little fingers of the right and left hands. And it lets you write them all with only 28 keys, the least to operate of any standard typewriter made.

Thus writers of all other machines can immediately run the Oliver Number "9" with more speed and greater ease.

WARNING!

This brilliant new Oliver comes at the old-time price. It costs no more than lesser makes — now out-of-date when compared with this discovery.

For while the Oliver's splendid new features are costly—we have equalized the added expense to us by simplifying construction.

Resolve right now to see this great achievement before you spend a dollar for any typewriter. If you are using some other make you will want to see how much more this one does.

If you are using an Oliver, it naturally follows that you want the finest model.

17 CENTS A DAY!

Remember this brand-new Oliver "9" is the greatest value ever given in a typewriter. It has all our previous special inventions—visible writing, automatic spacer, 6½ ounce touch—plus the Optional Duplex Shift, Selective Color Attachment and all these other new-day features.

Yet we have decided to sell it to everyone on our famous payment plan—17 cents a day! Now every user can easily afford to have the world's crack visible writer, with the famous PRINTYPE, that writes like print, included FREE if desired.

TODAY—Write For Full Details and be among the first to know about this marvel of writing machines. See why typists employers, and individuals everywhere are flocking to the Oliver. Just mail a postal at once. No obligation. It's a pleasure for us to tell you about it.

Colonel Bryan's book, "British Rule in India," whether whole or in sections, or in pamphlet extracts, printed in any language, has been barred by the British government from the mails in India. East Indian propagandists in the United States have been sending translated excerpts in pamphlet form to India, and the British government regards them as calculated to stir up sedition and revolt among the people of India. It is somewhat curious that the writings of the world's peace advocate should be classed as a firebrand likely to cause a popular uprising and [illegible] British possession.

NO RELIEF EXPECTED FOR SHIPPING

New York steamship lines and exporters are taking a very calm and practical view of the American note to Great Britain, protesting against interference with our commerce and declaring the British blockade to be "ineffective, illegal and indefensible." They approve the American protest, but they do not expect Great Britain to yield in her policy.

It is generally asserted by New York shippers that the status of exports from the United States to Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland will remain the same as at present, and that in their opinion Great Britain is not likely to let down the bars or yield any point which would directly or indirectly make possible the shipment of goods into Germany through neutral ports. Nevertheless they think it is high time for this country to assert itself.

It is said that Great Britain may answer in a month, instead of taking eight months as she did in answering the former American protest. The shippers anticipate Great Britain's answer and consequently they will risk no shipments contrary to the rules issued by Great Britain for American exporters to govern themselves by. The steamship companies at New York will not accept any freight unless American shippers present affidavits and other papers showing that the merchandise to be shipped is going to a neutral, located in a neutral country and that it must be guaranteed that the goods are to be used in a neutral country.

Usually a certificate of the shipper in the United States is not regarded as sufficient evidence, and the lines impose the requirement that the importer in Copenhagen, or any other foreign port, shall make the necessary affidavits abroad and submit them to the office of the steamship company there for transmission by cable to the New York office of the line. Until the line is notified of the acceptability of the proposed shipment the agents in New York refuse absolutely to permit loading of the merchandise aboard its ships.

In New York shipping circles as well as in banking quarters the opinion is expressed that the American note would in all probability not accomplish any relief to American business. It is expected that Great Britain will reply to the communication and there will be long continued diplomatic correspondence, but that no practical benefits will accrue to this country. The suggestion was made that the note might serve as a basis for claims that the United States may file against Great Britain in behalf of its citizens for damages sustained by interference with American commerce.

Great Britain already has intimated that she stands on precedent established by the United States during the Civil war. She will also set up the contention that a blockade under present conditions is entirely different from blockade conditions when there were no such things as submarines, torpedoes, mined harbors and channels, and no floating mines scattered broadcast on the waters in which blockade vessels would have to take a great risk. In other words, the British position will be that an effective blockade of the old kind is impossible under new conditions and for that reason a new question as to blockades has arisen since this war started.

NO LONGER AN EXPERIMENT.

Wilmington's Corn Show, beginning next Tuesday, will emphasize the fact that year after year the boys' corn clubs of the South have demonstrated that more than 100 bushels of corn can be raised on one acre of land, but some of the Northern and Western corn growers have doubted some of the phenomenal yields of Southern acres. However, they now realize that they can do the same by following corn club methods. A Pennsylvanian this fall harvested 2,000 bushels of corn on 16 acres of land, a yield of 125 bushels per acre for the whole tract.

The secret of it is intensive farming, and the practical purpose of the demonstration is to show that if one acre can be made to yield 100 bushels a larger number of acres can be depended on to do the same, just as the Pennsylvania farmer has demonstrated.

That Pennsylvania record is a fine one, but what about that 20-acre yield a few years ago near Columbia? Anyhow, since the boys' corn clubs in the South already have proven that 200 or more bushels of corn can be grown on one acre it is up to the regular farmers to demonstrate that 100 acres of good North Carolina land will produce 10,000 bushels of corn.

With a view to interesting Eastern North Carolina in the greater possibilities, Wilmington will have her annual Corn Show, November 16, 17, 18 and 19, and it is hoped that the farmers all over tidal Carolina will come here on that occasion. Nine counties will participate in the competition and $500 in prizes will be awarded.

Besides the Corn Show, there will be horticultural and agricultural exhibits, and a floral fair will be one of the attractions, not to mention the Made-in-Wilmington pageant, which is to be a brilliant and spectacular feature. Other things on the programme will make a two or four days visit to Wilmington well worth the effort.

THE WATERWAYS CONVENTION.

Savannah gives a hearty welcome to the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, which is now in session in that city. The association is one which has a distinct purpose in view, well defined by the Savannah Morning News as a very practical object—"that of commercial and industrial development and better preparation for the country's defense." Development of the country's rivers and harbors will accomplish that three-fold object, and especially will the completion of the Intra-Coastal Waterway, which is a special object of the association and concerning which great navigation enterprise The News says:

"When the Atlantic inland waterway is complete there will be another tie binding Savannah and the cities of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and those served by the rivers and canals of the waterway system, to increase the friendship between them and contribute to the growth of their factories, their shipping and their trade. It is as a friend whose desires are one with theirs that Savannah greets the representatives of her sister cities, and her other convention guests."

Commerce between ports and cities makes them neighbors. Water transportation and steamship connection promote commercial and business intimacy, and strange to say, that is what makes Wilmington's relations with New York and Baltimore much closer than Wilmington's relations with Savannah. Wilmington will be one of the chief cities on the Intra-Coastal Waterway, and when regular inland waterway commerce begins to move, Savannah will come directly into our commercial life instead of being indirectly connected with us by only occasional water traffic on the ocean.

EXPORT GROWTH IS FEARED.

We are curious to know how the Republicans can make anything out of a protective tariff issue in face of the fear in financial circles that there is already danger in our large volume of exports, with not enough imports to make international exchange easier. Business and financial circles of the great ports are desirous of larger imports in order to ease up a tense situation, while a high tariff would further shut out imports already limited by the war.

This country's exports continue to grow enormously and are not only unprecedented in the past history of the country but are especially so during the past months of the war. At first, the tremendous exports of the country and its enormous balance of trade were gratifying, but it is now feared that prosperity will be halted if Europe has to pay us cash instead of sending us some of her commodities in exchange for ours.

With money scarce in England and very few of her goods reaching America, it is quite possible for trade to come to a dead halt.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It may be well for our government to take a firm stand on the "established principles of international law" and insist that war shall be carried on in accordance with rules agreed upon by civilized nations in time of peace, so far as the interests of the United States and of other neutrals are involved. It is desirable to have those principles and rules maintained in theory, and in practice so far as that can be attained. Experience in actual war may show how far modern methods come in conflict with rules which were devised for different conditions and make some departure from them inevitable and some modification desirable. The modification cannot be made in the midst of a raging conflict. It must await the acceptance of terms of peace and the calm consideration that may follow, in which neutrals as well as the former belligerents may participate. Then the lessons of experience and cool reasoning may be applied for amending rules, which will again be put to the test, if war should come. Strict observance in the actual conflict of arms is never likely to be attained, and the efforts of civilized nations in the future ought to be directed to preventing all occasion for the trial. In the meantime neutral nations cannot afford to assent to violations of the rules where their rights and the interests of their people are sacrificed for the advantage of belligerents, for if these are departed from on the plea of necessity, there will be no defined limit within which the departure must be kept, and no criterion for judging what reparation for wrongs shall be made.—New York Journal of Commerce.

Our people are so engrossed with the war that it is doubtful whether they yet have realized the intricacy and delicacy of the problems which have arisen in this connection between Great Britain and the United States. These problems are attracting a great deal of attention and, we gather, are causing some feeling in the United States. Very much more is likely to be heard of them in the next few weeks. Our case, however—and it is a very strong one—is that the orders in council were a reply to Germany's repudiation of all international law. The Power which wickedly torpedoed neutral ships and ships with neutral passengers, and which sowed the seas with mines showed complete indifference for those neutral rights of which the United States declares herself the unhesitating champion. We waited for the neutrals to act, and as they did not we acted ourselves in the interests of humanity. The doctrines which were applied are in essence those laid down by the United States courts in the Civil War. They are applied to the new conditions of modern war, but adaptation does not imply contraventions of principles. If in the Civil War United States ships generally searched ships at sea, there were then no torpedoes, no submarines, no mines spread broadcast on the open water. The words which the American Professor Goley uses of the American blockade in the Civil War apply almost exactly to our blockade today. The principle was not a new one, though a novel application was made of it to meet a novel combination of circumstances. Nor did Great Britain resist that application. As the Confederate historian Scharf bitterly complains: "There was no effective blockade by the United States at any Confederate port and yet England respected a blockade which produced such distress at home, rather than aid a Confederacy whose cornerstone was slavery. The Americans are a just people. We would ask them to think over those words and at the same time to consider whether our submarine blockade recently instituted in the Baltic does not already meet most of the difficulties raised by President Wilson.—London Daily Mail.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Re-appointment of Surgeon General Rupert Blue, of the Public Health Service, has been decided upon. Secretary McAdoo will recommend to President Wilson a reappointment for another term of four years beginning on January 1.

200 DELEGATES IN RALEIGH.

Three Cabinet Members Breakfast With Them and Speak.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 9.—Three members of President Wilson's cabinet breakfasted yesterday at Yarborough Hotel with the 200 or more delegates from Atlantic seaboard states, who spent three hours in Raleigh on their journey southward to attend the annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association in session this week at Savannah, Ga. The cabinet members were Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of Commerce Redfield, and Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. Another especially distinguished guest was Admiral Grant, recently appointed by Secretary Daniels as the head of the submarine division of the United States Navy.

Congressman J. Hampton Moore, of Pennsylvania, and Congressman John H. Small, of North Carolina, pioneers of the great inland waterway movement, headed the delegation to the Inland Waterway convention, and Congressman Moore was master of ceremonies for the elaborate breakfast and for the speech making that followed in the hotel dining room. City officials headed by Mayor James I. Johnson, members of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by President John A. Park, and numbers of the leading business men of the city, along with the visitors, constituted the large company that gathered at the breakfast tables.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels in his brief address declared that the proposed inland waterway was vital for national preparedness and defense, adding that the waterway would be used by the government, not as a line of defense, but as a point from which to launch attacks of submarines and lighter craft, which would thoroughly protect the coast. Secretary Daniels said he looked forward to the time when on this interior line of waterways, there would be submarine and destroyer bases stretching all the way from Maine to Florida. He said that the present European war has demonstrated that sure defense is not in a great fleet to lay in harbor waiting for attacks from the enemy, but in dreadnaughts and modern cruisers to take battles with the enemy fleet on the high seas. He regarded inland waterways as important interior lines for such an active and aggressive attack in conjunction with coast fortifications as the last defensive resort. Mr. Daniels' remarks elicited much applause.

ALFRED NOYES AT CHAPEL HILL.

Famous English Poet Delivers Lecture at the University.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 10.—The coming of Mr. Alfred Noyes, the famous English poet, has been looked forward to with much pleasure. It was indeed a great treat to the University students to hear this distinguished man this evening at 8 o'clock in Gerrard Hall. Mr. Noyes was not unknown to Carolina men, having delivered a series of lectures here about two years ago. He comes as the result of the efforts of Dr. Archibald Henderson, who is a strong champion of the benefits to be derived from hearing and knowing the great literary men of one's own age as well as those of past ages.

WOULD COMBINE ALL RELIEF SOCIETIES WITH RED CROSS.

With Permanent Endowment of $100,000,000—Movement Launched.

New York, Nov. 9.—A movement to combine all relief societies founded in this country since the outbreak of the European war under the control of the American National Red Cross and to obtain for that organization a permanent endowment of $100,000,000 was started today at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid.

Among those who urged the plan were Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain, who presided; former President Taft, Miss Anne Morgan, Mrs. Leonard Wood, Mrs. E. H. Harriman, Jacob H. Schiff, and Miss Mabel T. Boardman, of the Red Cross executive committee.

Mr. Taft stated that President Wilson, as head of the Red Cross, had appointed him president of the central committee. "I do not know what the burden of the office is, but whatever the load will be, I will soon be under it," he said. "When you have that kind of interest you can be earnestly eloquent in asking others to help."

WILSON SENDS GREETINGS.

Best Wishes for Continuance of Friendly Relations Existing.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Wilson today cabled to the Emperor of Japan his cordial felicitations on the accession to the throne. The message follows:

"To His Imperial Majesty, Yoshihito, the Emperor of Japan, Tokio.

"On this auspicious occasion of Your Majesty's formal accession to the throne, I take pleasure in extending cordial felicitations and in expressing the confidence that the influence of your high ideals of right and justice which will continue to guide you in your exalted office will inure to the advancement of your country. I assure Your Majesty of my best wishes for your personal welfare and that of your majesty's family and for the continuance of the friendly relations existing between Japan and the United States.

At the fair grounds children of the Caswell Training School, the State institution near here, rendered a program at 11 o'clock. At noon elaborate exercises were commenced which included the singing of patriotic airs by the children in unison and a speech by Hon. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Atlantic Trust and Banking Co.
WILMINGTON, N. C.

Often it is desired to keep an estate under the supervision of a friend or member of the family, and yet avoid the dangers of individual trusteeship, such as illness, death, or other circumstances that may impair the estate.

This may easily be accomplished by naming the Atlantic Trust and Banking Company as co-executor and co-trustee.

Such a precaution is particularly advisable when a wife or other woman relative is to be executrix and trustee, because the Company can relieve her entirely of the heavy responsibilities and arduous details, as it has an unexcelled organization and wide experience in handling personal trusts.

If you appoint this Company as executor and trustee, the cost will be no greater than if you appoint an individual.

TENTS ARE PITCHED FOR THE CORN SHOW

Bright and Attractive Appearance Creates Much Interest.

Health Exhibit Will Be Special Feature —Mayor Moore to Open Fair—List of Exhibitors—Decorations Being Arranged.

Three big tents for the Corn and Agricultural Show, which begins next Tuesday, have been pitched on Market street, between Front and Water and on the new Custom House site, where their bright and attractive appearance make this section the center of interest for large crowds of spectators, who are awaiting with much interest the opening of the show.

The committees and the Wilmington people generally have been co-operating in a manner that assures the success of the undertaking and there is no doubt that everything will be in readiness on the day of the opening. Mayor Moore has been requested by the programme committee to open the show Tuesday at 12 o'clock and the fair proper will continue from then through Friday night, with a dance at Woolvin Hall on Saturday night as the concluding feature.

Chairman Ames states that the tents will be ready for the exhibitors to begin erection of their exhibit booths Friday morning to get them in readiness to place the exhibits proper Monday.

Those who wish to compete for prizes are requested to have their exhibits placed by 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Health Exhibit a Feature.

North Carolina Sorosis has been successful in securing the public health exhibit of the State Board of Health, which has been going the round of the various county fairs of the State and is being shown this week at the fair at Kinston, N. C., from which place it will be brought to Wilmington.

In a letter to Mrs. Robert Ruark, who had charge of this feature, Mr. Warren H. Booker, chief of the Bureau of Engineering and Education, of the State Board of Health, has the following to say in regard to the manner in which this exhibit has been received and its importance: "I do not think that I am over stating the facts of the case when I tell you that in our opinion this exhibit has been the most extensive and far reaching single exhibit shown at any of the county fairs and a great many people have complimented the work of this board very highly, in preparing such an exhibit."

This exhibit will consist of six complete public health cabinets, together with all the signs, models, moving devices and other equipment now in possession of this board for making an exhibit on the subject of tuberculosis, care and feeding of babies, and patent medicines. Miss Kate Woolfolk, a demonstrator from the State Board of Health, will have charge of this exhibit. This will be one of the most important and interesting exhibits at the Corn and Agricultural Show and will occupy 70 feet of continuous wall space, in addition to the exhibit cabinets.

The committee is very fortunate in securing this exhibit and it will undoubtedly be received with the appreciation it deserves.

Many Varied Exhibits .

In addition to the space already allotted for county exhibits and Sorosis, the space committee has assigned exhibit space to the following:

Tidewater Power Company, F. D. Owen, animal industry; Atlantic Coast Veneering Co., Carolina Metal Products Co., N. B. Josey Guano Co., J. C. Huey, Farris Bakery, Remington Typewriter Co., Carolina Industrial School, Wilmington Stamp and Printing Co., Health exhibit, Bakery Shop, Cements Product Co., W. D. MacMillan, Jr., Lassiter-McDuffie Co., W. B. Thorpe & Co., Coca-cola Bottling Works, Satanet, F. W. Garret; A. G. Warren Ice Cream Co., Monroe Shoe Polish Co., G. W. Corbett, Currie, agricultural; Cape Fear Machine Works, Capt. Edgar Williams, agricultural; Franklin Sugar Refinery Co., Chamber of Commerce, Miss Lucy Moore, Clark-Lynch Co., Jacobi Hardware Co., Union Stamp and Type Co., Atlantic Paint and Varnish Co., Mr. VanNess, Mr. William Rehder, Masonboro exhibit, United Farm Women, Audubon Nursery, Delgado Mills and Southport exhibit.

Merchants to Decorate.

The C. W. Polvogt Company, who have a large stock of flags and other decorative material, are co-operating with the merchants in the city to have them decorate their stores in keeping with the Corn and Agricultural Show celebration. Already some 30 merchants have stated they will decorate for the event, and there is every indication that Front, Market and Princess streets, especially in the vicinity of the Corn Show tents, will present a most attractive and festive appearance.

The Corn and Agricultural Show committee is anxious to have all the downtown merchants co-operate in this matter. It is fortunate that the decorative material is at hand and it can be secured through the C. W. Polvogt Company at a very nominal cost. This will prove a most attractive advertisinng feature for the show and will be in keeping with the plans of the decoration committee.

Live Stock Exhibit.

Dr. F. W. Owen, of the State Department of Agriculture, has been assigned space for his hog cholera exhibit in the live stock and poultry tent, which will add much to this feature of the Corn Show from the Surrounding counties, interested in raising swine. Mr. J. P. Herring, county demonstrator, has been advised of the visit of Dr. Owen and urges the farmer to give special attention to his exhibit.

Much interest is being taken in the live stock and poultry exhibit, one of the tents being devoted to this feature. A number of requests have been received for space and there is every reason to believe that this will be a most interesting part of the show.

NORFOLK MAY GET FIRE BOAT

Pleased With Apparatus Used by Wilmington Department.

Fire Chief McLaughlin, of Norfolk, who was recently in this city inspecting the fire boat used by the local department, has returned to Norfolk as an advocate of a similar boat for the department of that city. He states that he had been in favor of having such apparatus, but is far better convinced since seeing the one here in action. The boat here costs less than $10,000 and is easily maintained, while it is in position to save and protect much property on the water front.

TELLS OF HIS WORK IN CHINA

Mr. J. M. Clinton Makes Thrilling Appeal at Y. M. C. A. in Behalf of Work in Foreign Fields.

"If I had a hundred lives and wished to place each of them where it would count for most, I would gladly and willingly place them in the Far East," declared Mr. J. M. Clinton yesterday in an address before a gathering of young men at a luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Clinton has spent some ten or 12 years in the Orient, having been secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association at Hangchow, China, for several years, following which he became secretary of an association in Tokio, Japan.

Mr. Clinton by way of introduction to his thrilling and earnest appeal for China, told of how he became interested in missionary work. During his college days he attended the Y. M. C. A. conferences at Lake Geneva, Wis., but had never thought of going to the foreign fields. He studied law and became a practicing attorney but still retained his interest in the conferences. He was asked one summer while attending a conference, by John R. Mott, if he would not go to the Orient as a Y. M. C. A. secretary. After giving the subject considerable study, he at length decided to go and declared that he had never regretted the choice.

Mr. Clinton told briefly of the splendid work done by missionaries in China during the past hundred years and stated that their work had been baptized with blood in many cases. The great effort now being made is to reach the leaders in China and through them the masses. The speaker told instance after instance of how this work has been successful. Those who heard him tell of his experiences will not doubt the efficacy of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the Far East. As he told something of his own work among the Chinese students in Tokio, it was easy to understand why he is enthusiastic.

He expressed the belief that China will remain a republic. While the present government is far from being ideal, he stated, it represents a great advance over that of the absolute monarchy which existed only a few years ago and is now in charge young men.

Mr. Clinton stated that only a few weeks ago he was ready to return to Tokio after a brief visit to this country but that he was asked by Mr. Mott to remain here for a time to engage in the work of securing funds with which to support the 185 Y. M. C. A. secretaries in foreign fields. On account of the European war, it has not been an easy matter to secure sufficient funds.

Several hundred dollars for the support of the work was pledged in Wilmington and a movement has been set on foot to secure enough money to support Mr. Eugene E. Barnett, who is secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Hangchow, China. Mr. Barnett was to have been in Wilmington but was called to the bedside of his brother in Georgia.

Mr. Clinton left last night for Washington, D. C., but the missionary committee of the local Y. M. C. A. will endeavor to arrange plans for securing additional money. Mr. Clinton stated that there are more than a score secretaries for whom support must be secured.

TO LIVE IN WILMINGTON.

Mr. Oscar H. Kennedy Returns to Boyhood Home After Long Absence.

Mr. Oscar H. Kennedy, who spent his boyhood days in Wilmington, has returned to the city and will live with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Kennedy, No. 510 South Fifth street. The following from the Tunkhannock (Wyoming) Democrat, will be of interest to his many friends in Wilmington:

"Oscar H. Kennedy, who has been in the employ of Paul Billings & Co., as accountant and bookkeeper for the past 20 years, leaves for his old home in Wilmington, N. C., on November 2nd. Mr. Kennedy has made hosts of friends during his residence here. He is a man of fine character and excellent business ability. We regret to lose Mr. Kennedy as one of our citizens. He takes with him the best wishes of his many friends in Tunkhannock."

The New Age of the same city in speaking of his departure pays handsome tribute to his work in that place and extends best wishes for his future prosperity.

HAS NO NEW CASES

Recorder Placed Three Boys in Stockade for Six Months.

No new cases were taken up in the Recorder's court yesterday, but three small boys were placed on probation in the custody of Mr. P. H. Rasberry, superintendent of the county farm. The boys are William Russell, William Kermon and Edwin Greenburg. They were arrested several days ago on charge of stealing a bicycle belonging to Mrs. J. F. Sears. The boys were found to be under 18 years of age and judged incorrigible. Their parole to Mr. Rasberry on the county farm is subject to modification or revisal at the discretion of the court in the event that entrance to some training school can be secured.

The cases against Nathan Crawford, colored, charged with an assault with deadly weapon, will come up again today, while the cases against Frank Hooper and Nora Smith, for vagrancy, will be heard tomorrow.

FAIR WEATHER PREDICTED.

Higher Temperatures Indicated for This Section Today.

The local weather bureau yesterday issued the following summary of weather conditions:

"The northwest high pressure area has moved rapidly into the northeast sections with cooler weather southward into the South Atlantic states.

"A marked disturbance is centered this morning over Colorado and has caused a decided rise in temperature over the Plains states.

"Local rains have fallen in the West and Northwest and snow in the Rocky Mountain region.

"The conditions indicate fair weather for this section tonight and Thursday becoming warmer on Thursday. The winds will be light northeasterly."

Story Books for Night Schools.

An appeal has been made for story books for the moonlight schools by the committee in charge. Those wishing to donate can leave the books at the real estate office of Mr. F. A. Lord, who represents the Junior Order in the local work for better education and is taking a deep interest in moonlight schools. The recent appeal for elementary text books met with a cordial response and it is hoped that the request for simply story books will do as well.

EFFICIENT WORK IN STREET DEPARTMENT

Dr. Nesbitt Commends This Feature of City Government.

Thinks Water and Sewerage Department Could Improve Its Service. Board of Health Hears Reports—School Inspection.

That Mr. John J. Furlong, superintendent of streets, is giving the citizens of Wilmington a quality of efficiency in street cleaning service that has never before been approached and that if the same quality of co-operation could be established with the Water and Sewerage Department that has been established with the Street Department, there is no doubt that the city would be saved thousands of dollars in money and a very great deal of unnecessary annoyance and discomfort, was the statement made in the monthly report of Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county health officer, which was submitted to the Board of Health at its meeting last night.

Mr. George F. Catlett, director of the laboratory, made a splendid showing for the improved service he has been able to make in his work and gave figures which showed that the cost of treating the city water was cut in half for October and a total saving of $344 was effected for October over the same month of last year. The members of the board expressed themselves as deeply gratified to find so many evidences of an effort to reduce expenses and at the same time improve the service given the people.

Upon recommendation of Dr. Nesbitt, Rev. Hubert A. Parris, who is a licensed physician and is pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal church in this city, was authorized to undertake the inspection of the colored children in the public schools, and Dr. Kay, a colored physician, was authorized to make the inspection of the children in the Catholic schools, both these men having volunteered to do this work free of charge to the county.

All of the members of the board were present and the meeting was presided over by Chairman W. A. McGirt. Dr. John Thames, assistant county health officer, kept a record of the proceedings. After the reading of the monthly reports, a number of matters were discussed informally.

Efficient Street Cleaning.

Dr. Nesbitt submitted a very interesting report of the activities of his department during the past month, calling attention especially to the efficient work that Mr. John J. Furlong, superintendent of streets, is giving the citizens of Wilmington. Dr. Nesbitt reported that the medical inspection of the public school children has been inaugurated and carried on satisfactorily but that it had been found that there are a number of defective children, especially those needing attention because of abnormalities in the nose and throat and defective vision. A number of children have been discovered who are suffering from constitutional deficiencies that could be corrected with comparative ease if they had the proper medical attention.

"As the work progresses we find the need for a school physician growing more imperative," Dr. Nesbitt stated. "It is very trying to carry on this investigation and to continue to be unable to give relief to the children of the poor whose future depends so much upon this relief. The same necessity holds good in our infant welfare work which we are trying to carry on in connection with the school work."

"I desire to state to the board that at last a most gratifying arrangement has been effected by which we can secure effective co-operation with the city department of Streets and Wharves," Dr. Nesbitt continues. "Shortly after the appointment of Superintendent of Streets, Mr. Furlong, we held several conferences with a view to securing a street cleaning service whirh would give the highest degree of sanitary result. A survey of the city showed that the First and Fifth wards had been so badly served under previous administrations that there was a very extensive work to be done in both wards. It was determined to devote as much time as possible to clearing these two wards of filth and rubbish that had been allowed to remain in the streets for many months.

"Circumstances over which neither Mr. Furlong nor myself had any control delayed the doing of this work and little headway was made during the summer months when it was most needed. When Mr. Holton was appointed assistant superintendent of streets, the Street department and the Health department immediately began a vigorous effort to relieve the First and Fifth wards and to improve the conditions in the entire city. Notwithstanding the fact that the street force has been materially reduced, Mr. Furlong has given the citizens of Wilmington a quality of efficiency in street cleaning service that has never before been approached. I am sure that the board will be very pleased to know that the street cleaning service and the Health Department are firmly united in the effort to give the citizens of Wilmington the highest possible service that can be secured under the expenditures.

"Both Mr. Furlong and Mr. Holton are giving the department the most gratifying co-operation. There are a number of things which we have not been able to do as yet on account of shortage of men. These things, however, will be taken up as rapidly as possible. We are determined that at no time in the future will there be any necessity for a so-called 'clean-up week.' If the same quality of co-operation could be established with the Water and Sewerage Department that has been established with the Street Department, there is no doubt that the city would be saved thousands of dollars in money and a very great deal of unnecessary annoyance and discomfort.

"We are finding increasing difficulty in meeting the public demands for the services of the department. We are being called upon continually by citizens to render services for which we are not fully prepared. It is very gratifying to every member of the department to note this evidence of public confidence and appreciation. We are doing our best to meet these demands with our present facilities. We only ask that the public be patient and that they take into consideration the growing extensions of our work.

Other Reports Made.

Dr. John Thames, assistant county health officer, submitted a detailed statistical report of his work during the month which shows that there is

CHURCH IN EAST WILMINGTON

Messrs. James and W. H. Sprunt to Give Handsome Edifice at 15th and Market to Presbyterians.

It was announced yesterday that a Presbyterian church would be built in the very near future at the southwest corner of 15th and Market streets by Messrs. James and W. H. Sprunt for the benefit of the Presbyterians living in the eastern part of the city. The Messrs. Sprunt will have the church dedicated as a memorial to their parents. The cost has not been estimated, or announced, but it was understood yesterday that Mr. K. Murchison, of New York, will be the architect. The lot purchased for the building is 90 by 165 feet in size, and was purchased from Col. Walker Taylor.

The following committees have been appointed from the First Presbyterian and St. Andrew's Presbyterian churches at the request of the Messrs. Sprunt to purchase the site: First church, Messrs. W. D. McCaig, J. O. Carr, C. W. Woodward and E. C. Holt; St. Andrew's, Dr. R. B. Slocum, Messrs. J. K. Wylie, Fred Pearsall and J. F. Mann. They held a meeting Tuesday night and completed arrangements for the purchase of the site.

There are now about 100 Presbyterians living in that section of the city, it is stated, and as it is a fast growing section, it is likely that the new church will soon have a large membership. The new church will be organized after the building is completed and a pastor will be called. The membership will include many of the very prominent men of the city, who will come principally from the First Presbyterian and St. Andrew's churches.

Messrs. James Sprunt and W. H. Sprunt, who will give the church as a memorial to their parents, are two of Wilmington's leading citizens and have been prominent leaders in the city for many years in many lines as well as business. Mr. James Sprunt is a member of the First Presbyterian church, while Mr. W. H. Sprunt is a member of St. Andrew's. Their donations of churches and schools are to be found all over the southeastern part of North Carolina, the most recent gift prior to this being by Mr. James Sprunt when he gave the congregation at Winter Park a handsome $8,000 building, as a memorial to his sister, Mrs. Margaret T. Hall, a few months ago.

There has been a school and an Episcopal church recently erected in the eastern section of the city, and the building of the new Presbyterian church comes as the culmination of a long cherished desire by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. It will mean much to the development of that section of the city.

I. armory tonight, at their smoker, and tell them many interesting things about the organization of old soldiers, and will also explain how the veterans of the War Between the States were organized.

Asks for Sympathy and Help.

Friends and neighbors and any one in the city will confer a favor by helping the family of Mr. Hayes, who lives on Surry street, in the southern part of the city. Mr. Hayes has been ill for several months, and while unable to work his family is suffering for necessities, especially as winter is coming on. Nearby neighbors have been helping the family, and Immanuel Presbyterian church began giving support. Any donations can be sent in care of residents of Surry street, or Immanuel Presbyterian church.

Make Your Hair Curly and Wavy Over Night!

To curl the hair, without at the same time burning the life out of it, nothing equals plain liquid silmerine. If a little be applied to the hair with a clean tooth brush before retiring, the loveliest wavy effect imaginable will be in evidence in the morning. It will also be found an excellent dressing for the hair.

This simple method is not to be compared with curling by means of a hot iron, because, instead of injuring the hair, it is really beneficial. A few ounces of the liquid, which may be procured at any drug store, will last for months. One can curl the hair in any style desired, and the effect will be one of perfect naturalness. The best way is to divide the hair into strands and moisten each of them from root to tip. The hair will be beautifully glossy, yet without the least greasiness or stickiness.

Turn This Over In Your Mind

Teach your dollars to have more "cents," by using Larabee's Best Flour. Makes more and better bread.

Gluten is the strength or nutrition in flour. Larabee's Best Flour contains about twenty per cent. more gluten than soft wheat flour.

Our law makers require analysis of nutrition shown on each bag of mill feed sold for horses, cows, sheep, hogs and goats, but are silent as the tomb about analysis on flour for men, women and children. Larabee's Best Flour would show an analysis much richer and better than soft wheat flour.

The rich nutty flavor in Larabee's Best Flour differentiates it from all other flours; it is milled by a special process which retains the natural wheat flavor.

Grandfather's corn meal made by his little water power mill, just over the hill, on a rill, had a special flavor which pleased Bill. "There's a reason." The slow process, crushing the grain.

Larabee's Best Flour is milled from the choice grades of best Kansas hard wheat. Especially prepared for those who are using soft wheat flour for biscuits, rolls, bread, cake and all pastry purposes.

Our wise men at one time thought the world was flat. School children today know it is round. Think and act right about your flour, which through your stomach you transform into blood, bone, muscle, mind and life. Larabee's Best Flour is manufactured by the Larabee Flour Mills Co., Hutchinson, Kansas.

VIGOROUS PROTEST IS MADE

City Council Postpones Action on Proposed Ordinance Prohibiting Parking of Automobiles.

Vigorous protest was made at the regular weekly meeting of City Council yesterday against the proposed ordinance to prohibit the parking of automobiles on Front street, between Market and Chestnut and on Princess, between Front and Second, and the matter was allowed to go over a week but an ordinance passed its first reading prohibiting the parking of a vehicle of any kind on Front street for 50 feet on either side of Princess. The real estate men of the city, who have offices within the proposed territory for the restriction of the parking of automobiles, felt that they had the biggest grievance because automobiles are an essential part of their business.

Mr. E. H. Munson, president of the Wilmington Retail Merchants' Association, thought that those doing business in that territory should be allowed to park their machines. There are only about six men doing business on Front, between Chestnut and Princess, who have machines, he stated, and he could see no reason why they should not be allowed to do so. He agreed that the general parking of machines within the business district has become something of a nuisance but could see no reason for absolutely abolishing the practice altogether.

Mr. James Owen Reilly, Mr. R. N. Northrop, of J. G. Wright & Son, and Mr. D. R. Foster, all real estate agents who have offices on Princess, between Front and Second, stated that it is important for them in carrying on their business, to have machines near at hand for the convenience of their customers. They thought something ought to be done to get rid of so many vehicles but urged Council not to hinder them in carrying on their business.

City Attorney Ruark was of the opinion that nothing could be done by Council that would give superior rights to tenants or property owners in the business district over others so far as the streets are concerned.

Councilman Hall moved that that part of the ordinance prohibiting the parking of vehicles of any kind within 50 feet of Princess on Front street be adopted. At the suggestion of Councilman McCaig, the other matter went over until the next meeting in order that public sentiment can crystalize. Many have asked that an ordinance be passed prohibiting the parking of automobiles in the main business district.

An appropriation of $150, subject to the approval of the finance committee of City Council, was made for the Corn and Agricultural Show. Col. J. VanB. Metts and Mr. C. VanLeuven were before Council to ask that this amount be given which is the same as contributed by the city last year. Both these gentlemen stated that they had met with a most cordial response from the people of the city in a campaign for funds and that 135 business men had subscribed from $5 to $50 each, the total amount being more than $1,000.

City Attorney Ruark, to whom was referred the letter of Mr. A. B. Skelding, general manager of the Tidewater Power Company, asking that automobiles be prohibited from passing to the left of street cars when they are standing still, reported unfavorably on the proposition, stating that while there were some dangers to vehicles from this source, he was of the opinion that the present laws are amply sufficient to take care of the situation.

Mr. J. H. Hinton, proprietor of the Orton hotel, was before Council in behalf of William Polite, head waiter at the Orton, who recently had water cut off from two houses on Kendall avenue and 12th street because they are on the same line with another house, on which the owner has not paid the water rent. Polite paid his rent several weeks ago. The matter was referred to Councilman Jones, in charge of the Water and Sewerage Department.

Messrs. Sol Sternberger and C. B. Parmele wanted to know when the sewer line was going to be extended to Carolina Place as they were contemplating the erection of two residences at Carolina Court and wanted to know whether they shall put in a septic tank or shall make provision for connecting up with the city sewer line. Councilman McCaig informed them that the work had been authorized but that no money is yet available. They were referred to the city engineer for full information as to the proposed line.

Councilman Merritt asked that Davis & Hintze, who recently leased a large part of Front Street Market, not be charged at the rate of $125 a month until they have completed the repairs now under way. No action was taken as it is understood that the work will be completed some time this month and action will then be taken.

Section 45 of the privilege tax ordinance was amended so as to make all fertilizer manufacturing companies, who have plants out of the city, but maintain an office within the city, pay a license tax of $10 a quarter. The section as it now stands applies only to agents of fertilizer manufacturing companies.

The matter of building several sidewalks, including that of Mr. Albert Steljes and Trinity Methodist church on Market street, were referred to the city engineer with power to act. These unfinished walks have been the subject of much discussion in City Council for many months and provision will be made to see that they are now laid.

The renting of a part of the old fire house at Fourth and Princess streets to Mr. J. A. Lewis, a wheelright, was referred to Councilman Bunting. Councilman Bradshaw reported that Mrs. Leonora Tyler, who recently fell on Front street, near Castle, injuring herself, had refused through her attorney to accept $200 as a sufficient recompense and that suit had been instituted in Superior Court. He also asked that Miss Maria Thompson be directed to have a sidewalk laid in front of her property at Ninth and Dock streets.

An amendment to the privilege tax ordinance was adopted making the license for lumber plants sawing as much as 50,000 feet or more of lumber pay a tax of $100 and plants cutting under this quantity, $60 a year, the tax to be paid quarterly in each instance.

All members of City Council were present except Councilman Jones and Mayor Moore presided.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 10.—Leaf tobacco sales on the North Carolina markets during October aggregated 64,152,000 pounds, of which 54,608,799 pounds were first hand for the growers. Winston-Salem led with 7,011,550 pounds, and Kinston was second with 5,880,692 pounds. The first hand sales on the Winston-Salem market were 5,970,707 pounds and on the Kinston market 5,172,804 pounds.

State Prison Directors Meet.

Directors of the State's prison in monthly session today to canvass the affairs of the prison developed the fact that the cotton crop this season is about 600 bales compared with an average of 1,000 bales, the decrease being due to reduction in acreage. The 400-acre pea crop has not yet been picked and the yield is problematical. The wheat crop of 23,000 bushels has been about all sold at from $1.10 to $1.15 per bushel. The directors here were H. B. Varner, Lexington; Thomas Gilliam, Windsor; R. H. Buckingham, Fayetteville, and E. M. Edgerton, Selma.

An interesting feature of the session of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association yesterday was the reading of the North Carolina Bibliography for the past year, prepared and read by Miss Minnie Leatherman, secretary of the State Library Association. The Books and Pamphet section of this report 29 authors who are native North Carolinians and most of them residents of this State.

First and foremost among these, of course, was mentioned Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest College, winner of the Patterson loving cup, with his "The New Peace," the award for which was made last night. The authors mentioned included: Catherine S. Albertson, Elizabeth City; Thomas Henry Briggs, Columbia University; Charles L. Coon, Wilson; Dr. W. E. Dodd, University of Chicago; Mrs. Charles E. Erksine, Tryon; Norman Forester, Maurice G. Fulton, Davidson College; Edwin Greenlaw, University of North Carolina; W. A. Harper, Elon College; Fannie E. S. Heck, deceased, Raleigh; W. H. Heck, University of Virginia; Archibald Henderson, University of North Carolina; Horace Kephart, Bryson City; Edward W. Knight, Trinity College; Margaret Morley, Tryon; L. L. Nash, Hamlet; Clarence Poe, Raleigh; C. B. Riddle, Elon College; Major W. A. Smith, James Sprunt, Wilmington; Mrs. Frances Tiernan, Salisbury; Stephen B. Weeks, Elizabeth City.

Fifty Years After War

The morning session of the Literary and Historical Association was something of a semi-centenial of the close of the Civil War and there were a number of especially interesting papers presented.

Dr. E. W. Sikes, of Wake Forest College, read an able paper on "Social and Economic Legislation in North Carolina, 1861-1865." Miss Mary Shannon Smith, of Meredith College, delighted the members of the Association with a paper on "Union Sentiment in North Carolina, 1961-1865." In it she showed North Carolina overwhelmingly loyal to the Confederacy.

Dr. J. G. deR. Hamilton, of the University of North Carolina, read an especially able and interesting paper on "The South and the Administration of Andrew Jackson." Another most interesting paper was by United States Judge Henry G. Connor on "Thomas J. Jarvis and the Rebuilding of North Carolina."

This afternoon in addition to the reading of the North Carolina Bibliography for the year by Miss Minnie W. Leatherman, there was a splendid paper by Dr. Benjamin F. Sledd, of Wake Forest College, on "Literature and Art; Two Means of Expressing the Genius of a People." There was an able address by W. C. A. Hammell, of the State Normal and Industrial College, on "A State Art Commission," the paper making an able plea for the establishment of such a commission.

Gold Medal to be Awarded

There came today from the North Carolina Society Sons of the American Revolution, through the State Department of Education, the announcement that the society will award a gold medal to the student in the schools and colleges of the State who writes the most meritorious essay on William Bryan, of Craven county, brigadier general in the Revolutionary war. A statement by President E. A. Harrington, as president, and R. T. Bonner, as secretary, states the conditions, which are that the essay must be wholelx the work of the contestant, with accurate credit for all quotations used in the paper and with duplicate copies to be sent to Judge W. C. Bragaw, Washington, N. C., a former president of the society; Mrs. W. N. Reynolds, Winston-Salem, regent of the North Carolina Daughters of the American Revolution; and Dr. S. Westry Battle, Asheville. The essays must be filed not later than May 15, next.

THEATRICAL

In the modern morality play, "Everywoman," which Henry W. Savage will offer here shortly with one of the strongest organizations he has ever sponsored, there are thirty-seven speaking characters which represent the virtues and vices and conditions in the manner of the old morality play, "Everyman." The production is on a scale that dwarfs all of Mr. Savage's previous efforts. One hundred and fifty people are employed in various capacities in the production and the organization includes a special symphony orchestra.

Girls—Songs—Joy.

Books and lyrics by Arthur Gillespie, music by Aubrey Stauffer, staged by Frank Tannehill, Jr., dances by Virgil Bennett, and sent on tour by Le Comte and Flesher direct from its great Chicago success comes "September Morn" a musical comedy built for laughing purposes only. Plenty of comedians, beautiful girls, songs of the whistling kind, it went with a boom—150 nights in Chicago and could have stayed one year, but the tremendous demand for it on the road caused its owners to venture forth for a tour. "September Morn" will be seen at the Academy soon.

Elsie Janis at Royal.

Elsie Janis, the sparkling star of the Paramount program, appears at the Royal today in her very greatest feature of the entire year, a convincing story of primeval to present day love, written by herself, "'Twas Ever Thus." No matter what airs and what graces men may have taken on since the world began they make love the same today as when they lived in caves and wore the skins of wild animals upon their shoulders.

Beginning when a lithe, bare-limbed girl in a panther skin races in and out through the rocks and finally darts into a great cave, grimly pursued by her caveman lover, "'Twas Ever Thus," shows their way.

Later—in graceful ringlets and fetching poke bonnet, the girl of '65 venmile an hour express train engine that has ever been filmed for the movies. It is in three great reels, and there is a thrill and a punch in every scene.

"Blow for Blow"—Grand.

This two-reel Biograph feature is founded upon an English melodrama of the same name. That was a great favorite with theatre-goers fifty years ago. Twin sisters are the leading characters, and are both played in the screen version, by Mary Malatesta. She fills the dual role in a highly satisfactory manner. Desiring vengeance for her sister, Alice, whom Linden has never seen, falls in with his plan—which is to pretend that she is Mildred. But the old butler, recognizing Drummond, comes forward, and on his story Drummond is arrested. "Blow for Blow" is entirely different from any drama you have ever seen. It is the feature attraction on at the Grand today. "Fits and Chills," one-reel Vitagraph that will keep you in good humor. It's all about three farmers who are all in loce with the same girl. After all their sufferings they get the ha ha, for the girl in question marries a city chap and thus ends the rivalry. "A Test of Courage," Kalem Railroad Story, featuring Helen Holmes. This little dare devil seems to take a delight in risking her life to thrill the movie fans. For action and excitement, "A Test of Courage" is in a class by itself. oT see Helen escape from a burning switch tower, and leap aboard a speeding locomotive will make you hold your breadth in constant fear that she may be killed at any moment. All this will be on at the Grand today, and the admission is only five cents.

ELSIE JANIS,

tures down into battle-torn Dixie to nurse her wounded brother and she and the young Southern surgeon fall in love. "'Twas Ever Thus."

In 1915, because a wealthy publisher will not accept her novel, Mariam Gordon enters his household as a domestic servant "to get experience." She gets it, largely through the assistance of young John Rogers, the son, who is a heavy trader in "wild oats." but it makes a man of him in the end. "'Twas Ever Thus."

L'Envoi. Though things have changed since the world began, Love is the same in the heart of man. For—a man is a man, and a girl is a girl, and a heart is a thing that puts heads in a whirl; while Father's just Father, who thinks he is the plot, but when the play is finished he finds he is not! "'Twas Ever Thus." Don't miss this great play.

Last of Elaine—Bijou.

For 35 weeks some thousands of Wilmingtonians have been interestedly following that great serial, "The Exploits—Romance of Elaine." It has been voted by many hundreds the greatest serial ever seen, and certain, it has been drawing the largest crowds for this length of time.

Today at the Bijou these thousands will sorrowfully part company with this delightful bunch of stars who have portrayed the spectacularly interesting roles of the story. For today marks the presentation of the 36th and final episode—one that, of course, is chock full of great big surprises all the way through.

Where is Craig Kennedy? When does he show up and under what circumstances? What does Elaine do? What does Jamison do? Who is the lucky man to gain the heart and hand of the lovely Elaine? All these questions are to be answered and many more, too; all of which makes two of the most interesting reels of pictures ever filmed. Don't miss this great chapter. It is full of thrills and surprises.

The greatest railroad drama ever filmed in three acts is presented today. "A Fight to a Finish," was filmed under the direction of J. P. McGowan, husband of Helen Holmes, who filmed her great escapades for Kalem. Featured in this thriller is Marie Walcamp, who does the most stirring stunt on a 60-

QUART LAW EFFECTIVE.

Drunkenness and Disorder Greatly Reduced at Mount Olive.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mt. Olive, N. C., Nov. 10.—The police authorities here offer most convincing testimony as to the effectiveness of the "quart law" passed by the last Legislature.

During the year previous to the passage of this act upwards of 300 arrests for crimes and disorderly conduct of one kind or another were made here, most of which was due to drunkenness, so the authorities say; while, since the passage of the act, the number of arrests on similar charges falls far below a third of that many.

Chief of Police W. J. Flowers testifies that the passage of that law leaves him with almost nothing to do along that line.

CAROLINA COULD HAVE SCORED HIGHER WITH CLEMSON COLLEGE

University Still Hoping to Defeat Virginia This Year.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 10.—The outcome of the Carolina-Clemson game on last Saturday was not at all gratifying to Carolina sympathizers, but it is a pleasure to note that the report comes from Greenville that the Tar Heels apparently could have piled up a much bigger score, and that Clemson's sole score was the result of a fluke play. Twice Carolina was right at the point of carrying the ball over when the whistle blew for "time up."

The ball was kept in Clemson's territory nearly all the time, and this, despite the fact that George Tandy, Carolina's pioneer center, was unable to play. "Goat" Wright, Homewood's running mate at end, was also unable to make the trip to Greenville. J. Jones, the second center, got his collar bone broke during the game, and so Currie, third center, played the greater part of the game. The Tar Heels have been playing in hard luck all the season, owing to so many of the best men being out of the game on account of injuries.

With the Thanksgiving game with the University of Virginia but two weeks off, interest in football is picking up here considerably. The one big game, from the point of view of the Carolina student body, is the game with the University of Virginia. If Carolina should win this game, the students, faculty, and alumni would all be entirely pleased with the season's football record. This coming Thanksgiving marks the tenth anniversary of the last time Carolina defeated Virginia.

The coaches are working the men unusually hard this week. They have not given up hope, and it can not be said that the team has given up either, judging from the "drive" and "pep" they are putting into their practice.

Carolina men are enthusiastic in their praise of the brilliant record which the the U. Va. has made this year, and many regret that she did not defeat Harvard, not, after the manner of Brutus, that they love Harvard less, but that they love Virginia more. At any rate, there is honor in contending with a worthy rival.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what their nature, take Anti-kamnia Tablets, and the results will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all druggists in any quantity, 10c worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sicknesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on, take two tablets, and in many cases, the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

Genuine A-K Tablets bear the K monogram. At all druggists.

BALL FANS MEET TONIGHT

Wilmington May Get a Berth in the Virginia or North Carolina League. Much Enthusiasm.

A meeting will be held tonight in the Court House as a follow-up to the enthusiastic meeting held Monday night for the purpose of securing a berth for Wilmington in the Virginia or North Carolina baseball league, to take up the franchise dropped by Petersburg, if they get in the Virginia League.

Although Hopewell, Va., is making an effort, it is the hope of other members of the league that Wilmington will get in instead. The meeting is held tonight to further talk the underwriting plan of financing the team and berth in the league. This plan is supported by Senator W. B. Cooper, who promises to start the game by offering $1,000 on the guarantee, which must reach $7,500 before the franchise can be taken up. Mr. J. W. Blomme, one of Wilmington's most ardent baseball fans, and Capt. Edwin A. Metts, are also in favor of the plan to make this guarantee to bring the National sport to Wilmington.

President Boatwright, of the Virginia League, has asked Wilmington to send a delegate to the meeting of the directors of the league at their meeting in Norfolk November 18th.

When it is seen that many of the prominent business men in the city are becoming so interested, it is likely that the City by the Sea will soon be on the map in baseball circles.

scarcely any of the contagious diseases now in quarantine. Dr. Thames stated that he had made regular visits to the several county institutions for inspection and instruction and the treatment of chronic diseases. No cases of sickness were reported except from chronic causes and these have yielded to treatment admirably, he states. During the month he also visited 16 schools and vaccinated 38 children besides making talks and also addressing several mothers' clubs.

Mr. George Catlett, director of the laboratory, made a most interesting report of his work for the month, in which he called attention to an extension of its activities by which it will be of more real service to the physicians of the city. He reported that the city water supply has been of a very satisfactory sanitary quality during the month and has had a pleasing freedom from color and turbidity.

He makes a comparison of the cost of treating water for October this year, which cost $5.35 a million gallons, as compared with $9.65 for the same month last year. This was a saving of $344 on the 80 million gallons used. The greater part of the saving was due to the use of improved apparatus at the plant.

Dr. T. B. Carroll, meat and milk inspector, submitted his report as follows:

"I made 37 inspections of dairies, dairy farms and places where milk is sold; the sanitary condition, health of cattle and attendants were good. The butter fat tests and bacterial counts of our milks were as follows:

	Butter Fats Per Cent	Bacteria Per cc
L. L. Newell	4.8	5,000

"I made 936 post examinations of fresh slaughtered meats as follows: 240 cattle; 81 calves; 490 hogs; 124 sheep; 1 goat, and 2 deer, with one calf and two deer condemned as unfit for food."

Miss Pinner, the public health nurse, reported that during the month she visited 105 homes and 46 schools. The number of pupils excluded on account of illness was 23 and the number referred to physicians was 21. The number of infants under care was 32.

Mr. Otto Genaust, the plumbing inspector, reported 113 fixtures installed, 69 houses connected to sewer, 58 laterals laid, 77 permits granted, 83 inspections made and two condemnations.

Mr. Eben Piner, chief of sanitary police, reported 14,978 inspections made, 1,994 closets condemned and ordered cleaned, and 53 complaints made. Number of closets cleaned as reported by Mr. Holton was 2,072.

Mr. H. R. Aiken, food inspector, submitted a list of the scores made by the different establishments and in his report states that he has every reason to feel encouraged over the attitude of the merchants towards the food inspection work and looks forward to gratifying results in the next few months.

PLEASED WITH STOCKADE.

Court Officers Inspect New County Workhouse, and Find it All Right.

Accompanied by Chairman W. A. McGirt, of the Board of County Commissioners, Recorder Brooke G. Empie, clerk of Superior Court Harriss, and County Solicitor George Peschau went out to the new county work-house yesterday afternoon and made a thorough inspection of the premises and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the excellent provision that has been made for the county convicts.

All of the court officers considered the arrangements to be all that could be desired, and feel that the county is to be congratulated for thhis forward step.

Three juvenile offenders were taken out in Chairman McGirt's automobile, along with the court officers, and placed in charge of Mr. Rivenbark, the superintendent of the workhouse.

Recorder Empie stated last night that with the excellent arrangements that have been made, the boys will be under splendid discipline, and he believes that in the work-house lies a partial solution at least of the ever perplexing problem of caring for youthful criminals.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Every ticket of the army's allotment for the Army and Navy football game to be played in New York November 27 has been distributed. Lieut. Charles B. BURGLARS AGAIN OPERATE

Entered Several Homes Tuesday Night Including That of Mr. M. W. Jacobi—An Incident.

Burglars were again active Tuesday night after a rest of several days. Report was made yesterday to the police that entrance was made into the home of Mr. M. W. Jacobi, No. 302 North Third street, by removing a screen and raising a window on the back porch. It was thought by some that the thief climbed to the second floor porch on the lattice, but Plainclothesmen Leon George and D. W. Coleman investigated and thought the thief had concealed himself in the house before it was closed in the evening. Nothing was taken as the thief was frightened away.

Entrance was attempted to the home of Mr. Bartholomew Streb, No. 902 North Fourth street, but the would-be thief was foiled before entrance was gained. Mr. Samuel Smith, colored, No. 108 Mask alley, was the loser of a 38-calibre U. S. pistol, 350 Piedmont coupons and a gem safety razor, when a thief entered his home.

Some one entered the home of Mr Alex Boone, No. 115 North Eighth street, through the kitchen window and secured a few pennies. The theft was made at an early hour yesterday morning.

Report has been made that some one recently stole the famous hunting dog "Caesar" of Dr. A. H. Harriss and held it for ten days, returning it yesterday. It is apparent that the dog had been badly used. The police were called yesterday to Second and Ann streets to answer a call that a burglar was loafing around there, but Sergeant Howell on arrival on the corner found a gentleman there awaiting an appointment to meet a friend on a business matter. Women in the community had seen him there and feared he was loafing with bad intentions.

Chief N. J. Williams said yesterday that the burglary of the home of Mr. M. W. Jacobi reminded him of just 17 years ago today when he, Sergeant Charlie Wood, Sergeant George Smith, Sergeant E. J. Grimsley, Capt. C. W. Woolard and Plainclothesman Leon George and several others were sworn in as policemen for the city of Wilmington, this being the day following the riot in Wilmington. He says that among his first experiences as a policeman was to catch a man coming out of Mr. M. W. Jacobi's home with a clock in his arms. Mr. Williams took the man in charge and upon trial he was sent to the pen for 10 years.

FIRE ON DOCK STREET.

Damage to House and Contents of Mr. McKenzie Estimated $500.

The city fire department was called last night at 9:30 P. M. from Box No. 53 for a fire in the attic of the home of Mr. E. V. McKenzie, No. 804 Dock street.

The cause of the blaze was not determined, but the theory that it was due to disordered electric wiring was advanced by some of the firemen. The estimated cost of the damage to the building and contents was placed at $500 last night.

Good Colored Singers.

There was a good attendance at the Academy of Music last night to hear the colored opera singers. It was the opinion of most of those who attended that it was one of the really good attractions of the season. Salen Tutt Whitney, J. Homer Tutt and Blanche Thompson, were in the leading roles, and their voices, as well as their stage manners, were thought good. The scenery and costumes had been carefully and tastefully selected.

TUBERCULAR CHILDREN

hSall They be Excluded From the Public Schools?

Raleigh, Nov. 7. — The question, shall tubercular children be excluded from the public schools in North Carolina? has arisen and is now confronting the health and educational authorities of the State for a decision. Dr. L. B. McBrayer, superintendent of the State Sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, submits the following as his opinion in the matter:

"First, for the sake of other pupils and as a safe guard against communicating the disease to other pupils, a child who has an open case of tuberculosis, which means a case f tuberculosis with the tubercle bacillus in the sputum, should not be allowed to attend the public schools or any other schools with children who are not tuberculous.

"Second, for the child's own sake, a child who has tuberculosis, either an open case or an insipid case—before the germs appear in the sputum,—or even a case of glandular tuberculosis, should not be allowed to attend a public or private school in the State for the reason that the ventilation does not meet the requirements of such a case. Such cases should not be allowed to pursue their studies for the usual number of hours, nor carry the usual heavy cours of our schools, private or public, but should have their hours and course of study, their environments, their nutrition, and other points in their physical being, closely supervised by a competent physician."

"I believe in the divine right of every child to receive an education," says Dr. McBrayer, " and if necessary at the hands of the State, but the child receives no benefit if during or by the end of the number of years required to obtain this education, he is dead with tuberculosis. Furthermore, he is an economic loss to the State. I believe that tubercular children are entitled to an education, and that the State must provide for the teaching of these children, in which case it will be necessary for the State to provide open air schools with teachers for the same, and to provide physicians to supervise the health of these children."

FRENCH SEIZING SWISS MAIL FROM NEW YORK, IS CHARGE.

American Bank Notes Included in the Alleged Seizures.

Zurich, Switz., via Berlin to London, Nov. 10.—According to the Neue Zuricher Zeitung the French postoffice has been for some weeks confiscating dispatches and registered letters containing checks and coupons sent from New York for collection, especially in cases where the banks to which they were addressed were opposed to the Anglo-French loan. The seizures include American bank notes.

"Great indignation prevails in Swiss financial circles," the Neue Zuricher Zeitung continues, "because the action means an embargo on Swiss trade and banking operations with America."

SEVERAL PRISON SENTENCES

Criminal Term of Federal Court Nearing End—Grand Jury Discharged—Civil Docket Next.

Several prison sentences were given yesterday by Judge Connor in Federal Court, and practically all of the cases on the criminal docket have been disposed of and it is expected that the civil calendar will be taken up today. The Grand jury, of which Mr. W. A. French was foreman, completed its work yesterday afternoon and was discharged.

Arthur Barrett, a young white man, who with two other men robbed the postoffice at Newberlin, was sentenced to serve a year and a day in the Federal prison in Atlanta. Barrett was arrested several months ago in Salisbury on a charge of beating his way on a train. After being taken in charge taken in charge by the officers, Barrett told of having been implicated with the robbery of the postoffice at Newberlin. He said that he met up with two other men in Wilmington, who persuaded him to go with them. He said that he had got about 40 in stamps were given to him. His home is in Shelby, N. C.

A fine of $100 and the costs was imposed in the case against Capt. Alexander Walton, master of the British steamer Sowwell, who was charged with allowing an Italian stowaway to be deported in Wilmington in violation of the immigration laws. Captain Walton sailed with his vessel several weeks ago and he was represented in court by his attorney, J. O. Carr, Esq.

W. B. Faircloth, a farmer of Sampson county, entered a plea of guilty of having interfered with a government officer in the discharge of his official duties. When a cattle inspector came to Mr. Faircloth's farm to inspect his cattle with a view to ridding them of ticks, he was told to leave. Having spent a month in jail already and being in bad health, the court considered that he had been punished sufficient and he was allowed to return to his home.

Ira J. Wilkes, of Robeson county, who was convicted Tuesday of illicit distilling, was given 30 days in jail and fined $100 and the costs.

A. Jones, of Cumberland county, was sentenced to serve a year and a day in the Federal prison on a charge of illicit distilling. He was the first one to be tried yesterday.

John Smith, of Robeson county, was convicted of illicit distilling and sentenced to serve 90 days in jail.

HANDICAP WRESTLING BOUT.

Big Italian Will Meet Fritz Hanson on Local Mat Friday Night.

Announcement was made last night that Leo Pardello, who claims to be the Italian champion, will meet Fritz Hanson in Woolvin Hall tomorrow night in a handicap match. The big Italian, who wrestled with Dr. B. F. Roller last night in Norfolk, weighs around 200, while Hanson tips the scales at 50 pounds less. The match will, therefore, be a handicap bout, the Italian agreeing to throw the local champion three times in an hour. Hanson says he is going to try to stay around him for that length of time.

The only claim made by Pardello is that he has never been thrown by an Italian. He took part recently in a tournament in New York and stood high among the contestants for honors.

CLOSE DEAL FOR THEATRES

Messrs. Howard and Wells, Owners of Bijou and Royal, Secure Leases on Victoria and Grand.

The deal was closed yesterday afternoon by which Messrs. Howard & Wells, owners of the Bijou and Royal theatres, become lessees of the Grand and Victoria theatres. This will put these progressive gentlemen in control of all the amusements houses in the city with the exception of the Academy of Music.

The Grand and Victoria theatres are both owned by Mr. J. M. Solky, who operated them until last July, when he leased them to Deluca Bros., of Bowden, N. C., for a period of four years. Messrs. Howard and Wells have taken over this lease, and have secured from Mr. Solky the privilege of a renewal for a period of five years.

The future plans for the operation of the Grand and Victoria theatres have not been announced. It is understood that the Grand will be continued as a moving picture house, with Mr. P. W. Wells in charge, and that a number of changes and improvements will be made. While the engagement of the stock company now appearing at the Victoria will close Saturday, it has not yet been determined what will be its future policy. It will, in all probability be kept open without interruption, it was stated last night, but he characer of the attractions may be changed later.

LIONS CONTINUE LEAD.

Tigers Overwhelm tthe Leopards at Boys' Brigade Last Night.

Team:	Won.	Lost.	P.C.
Lions	5	0	1000
Tigers	2	3	400
Leopards	2	3	400
Wolves	1	4	200

Results Last Night:

Wolves	22
Lions	9
Leopards	17

The games of basket ball in the Wednesday Night League at the Boys' Brigade last night were interesting, but too rough for the real science of the game. Nearly everybody got in on the fouling, although there was a good deal of pretty work on all teams from time to time. Several regular players were lacking, and this was responsible for the drop in team work.

In the first game the Lions continued their winning streak by taking a victory from the Wolves, but it was a hard fought game as the score will show. The Wolves crawled up time and again, but could not get away with enough goals to win the game.

In the second game the Tigers marched past the Leopards in good fashion, and now tie them for second place in the percentage column. The first half of the game was close, and pretty, ending 15 to 10 in favor of the Tigers.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD BEFORE WINTER

Free yourself from the menace of bad health when the cold and wet sets in. Sufferers from Catarrh, Rheumatism, and Eczema are worse in winter. Take S. S. S. now.

Advice of this character has been given by our trained specialists year after year as summer began to wane and the coming of Fall heralded the time when storms and cold are near. We repeat this warning here. Sufferers from Catarrh will undoubtedly find the symptoms much aggravated as Winter approaches. With the first chill blasts the Rheumatism lets itself be felt. There are forms of winter Eczema—one in particular — called Tetter that causes real suffering when cold weather comes. The mere aches and minor pains of Rheumatism not only change in winter, but the changes are apt to be so decided in their violence as to cause the most intense suffering. Horrible aching pains in the limbs, in the back, in the joints, even rheumatic pains in the head and face sometimes supposed to be neuralgia. Catarrh is back again, more intense than last winter with the continual hawking and spitting, headaches, dripping of phlegm in the nose and throat, the stopped air passages and the foetid odor from the breath. Is it not a common-sense thing to do to avoid these troubles, to eradicate them from the system when it can be so easily done with a positive remedy such as S. S. S.? Remember, first of all, that the troubles we mention are blood troubles—deep-seated ones. Laugh at the man who recommends lotions, salves and local medicines. The trouble must be washed out of the blood. Thousands of people have been permanently relieved of blood and skin disease of every kind by the use of S. S. S., and many of those who, perhaps, at first did not find the results entirely satisfactory, wrote our physicians a full statement of their case, and a little advice hastened the relief. The only reason for wanting you to write us is that we may use every effort to see that you get the best result from the medicine. You can then help us by advising your friends to use S. S. S., which you will know from experience is all we claim for it. You can write with the assurance that all correspondence is held in strictest confidence, and that our physicians will give you helpful advice without charge. For sale at all drug stores. Refuse substitutes. Write the Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 14, Atlanta, Ga.

RALLY SENDS COTTON UP

Latest Submarine Incident Had Unsettling Effect Which Was Later Overcome.

New York, Nov. 10.—Unsettling influence of the latest submarine news and a bearish private crop estimate caused an early decline in the cotton market today, but prices soon rallied with January selling up from 11.48 to 11.73 and closing at 11.75. The general list closed steady 16 to 20 points higher.

The market opened one point higher to two points lower with near months influenced by relative steady cables, but be very soon weakened under liquidation by some of yesterday's buyers, the relatively easy ruling of New Orleans and scattered Southern selling. Reports that a traveling crop expert estimated the growth of this season at 12,890,000 bales including linters probably accounted for the bulk of the early offerings. The market steadied on the forecast for unsettled weather with frosts in parts of Oklahoma and the upward movement was encouraged by reports of improved spot demand. Most of the buying was attributed to covering of shorts after the recent break of approximately $9 per bale, but there were also reports of spinners' buyingto fix prices, and the demand from spot houses was rather more in evidence during the late trading. After showing an advance of about 30 points from the early low level, prices had a setback of 9 or 10 points on reports that there were some Americans o nthe steamer sunk in Italian waters, but the market rallied against, reaching the highest point in the late trading when December sold at 11.64; March at 11.99 and May 12.14, or nearly $2 per bale above the low level of yesterday morning. Closing prices were within 3 or 4 points of the best. Private cables reported heavy damage from the fire on the Liverpool docks, but so far as could be learned not more than 3,500 bales of cotton were involved.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

Downward Trend of Market Reversed —Close at Net Gain.

New Orleans, Nov. 10.—Prospects of unfavorable belt weather was the main influence in the cotton market today and lifted values when the market was on the downward trend as the result of the crop estimate of 12,890,000 bales, including linters, by a local authority. Except around the opening call the market had a good tone and the close was very steady at a net gain of 14 to 16 points. On the opening prices fell 8 to 12 points as the result of the crop estimate. The decline was met by heavy buying orders inspired by forecasts of a storm and cold wave over a portion of the western belt. The trade was especially fearful for the Oklahoma crop which is late. The decline was quickly recovered and the market went to a net advance which was maintained during the remainder of the session. At the highest the most active months were 16 to 18 points up.

Closing bids: December 11.43; January 11.62; March 11.86; May 12.03; July 12.13.

WAR STOCKS ON DECLINE

Investments, Especially High Grade Railroads, Strong and in Good Demand—Violent Slumps.

New York, Nov. 10.—A distinct line of cleavage between standard stocks and those in the speculative class was the significant feature of today's active market. Investment issues, especially high grade railways, were consistently strong and in good demand, while war shares and allied issues were again subject to severe shrinkage.

Declines in war stocks during the precipitate break of the mid-session ranged from 5 to 10 points, while Bethlehem Steel at its low figure of 400 showed a loss of 35, though closing at 430. The weakness of Bethlehem was naturally ascribed to the damage and possible delay in operations resulting from a fire at the company's main plant, but the vivorence which attended the slump in such descriptions as Baldwin Locomotive, Studebaker, Lackawanna Steel, Crucible Steel and Continental Can were largely in the nature of a weeding out of weakened accounts.

United States Steel, in which trading was the largest of any recent day, opened at a fractional decline but gradually rose 2 7-8 to 87 1-4, closing at a small fraction under its maximum. Steel's strength was directly traceable to the corporation's highly gratifying October statement, which disclosed an increase of about 850,000 tons in unfilled orders and exceeded any similar exhibit since the early months of 1913.

Railway stocks were at their best in the later dealings, Southern Pacific and Canadian Pacific leading the broad upward movement. Southern Pacific's rise of 3 7-8 to 103 7-8; its highest quotation in two years, gave point to the negotiations now under way between a banking syndicate and the Pennsylvania railroad for the latter's large holdings in Southern Pacific shares.

Average gains of 1 to 2 points were scored by Union Pacific, St. Paul, New York Central, Reading and Norfolk & Western and specialties made pronounced recoveries, some showing net gains on the day.

Bonds shared only in moderate degree with the advance in stocks, additional "future" sales creating some irregularity. Total sales, par value, aggregated $5,355,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

BRITISH CREDITS IN HANDS OF COMMITTEE

Stability of Foreign Exchange is Contemplated.

Committee Assumes Charge of the Negotiations Looking to the Establishment of the British Bank Credits Here.

New York, Nov. 10.—A committee of American bankers to assume charge of negotiations looking to the establishment of British bank credits here was appointed today at a meeting of leading financial institutions with whom the London bankers have been negotiating. It is understood that an immediate credit will be $50,000,000 and that other credits are contemplated.

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank, is chairman of the committee, the other members being Seward Prosser and Fred I. Kent, of the Bankers' Trust Company; J. S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce; R. J. Hebden, local manager of the Bank of Montreal; C. R. Sabin, president of the Guaranty Trust Company; William H. Porter, of J. P. Morgan & Co.; G. M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, and J. B. Forgan, president of the First National Bank of Chicago.

The British committee consists of Sir Henry Conliffe, Governor of the Bank of England; Sir Edward Holden, chairman of the London City and Midland Bank and a member of the Anglo-French Loan Commission, and Sir Felix Schuster, president of the Union and Smith's Bank of London.

The appointment of the American committee virtually completes an international committee before which will come for disposal all negotiations now contemplated for stabilizing foreign exchange through the medium of bank credits.

DR. BRECK AT TRINITY.

Navy League Representative Addresses College Students.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, N. C., Nov. 10.—Dr. Edward Breck, of Boston, representing the Navy League of America, delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture in the Y. M. C. A. hall on "Our Navy and Its Meaning."

The cardinal principle of the Navy League, said the speaker, is that the American navy should be greatly enlarged in order that the country may be defended against possible foes. Preparedness is the best preventive of war. Because the Navy League stands for preparedness, it has often been called "the best peace society in America."

Because of the complicated instruments of war, it is more necessary now than ever before that great nations have well trained soldiers and sailors. A force brought together after war has actually begun and sent upon the field or the sea without any training cannot be effective against well trained men.

THIRD SURVEY COMPLETED

For New Railroad From Lillington to Mount Olive.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., Nov. 10.—A corps of surveyors in the employ of the Central of Carolina Railroad Company have, for the third time, completed a survey for the proposed extension of that company's road from Lillington to Mt. Olive, and for the past two or three days have been busy surveying out different routes through the town here. While it is the general belief, based upon statement's attributed to those connected with the enterprise, that the date for beginning the construction of that part of the road from Benson here is not far distant, yet no definite announcement with regard thereto has been made.

Rev. Harry M. North, of Durham, has arrived in the city for the purpose of assisting Rev. James H. Frizelle, pastor of the Methodist church, in a series of revival services that began Sunday.

DEATHS AT GOLDSBORO.

Mr. B. M. Denmark and Mr. Oscar Brown Have Passed Away.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Nov. 10.—Following a slow decline in health of several weeks, Mr. B. M. Denmark died at his home in this city yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. He was up and about his house Monday and appeared to be gaining in strength from his recent illness and was dressed prepared to take some exercise when death resulted from heart trouble. For a number of years Mr. Denmark was a member of the police force and at one time was chief of the department. He is survived by his wife, one brother and several children, all of this city.

Mr. Oscar Brown, a well known machinist of this city, died at the Goldsboro hospital Monday night. He was employed as an engineer on the tram road of a local brick yard for a number of years. He is survived by his wife and one brother, Mr. Henry Brown, of this city. The funeral was held here yesterday afternoon.

FOUR COTTON MILLS SOLD.

Property of Hope Mills Mfg. Co., "Bid In" at $75,000.

Fayetteville, N. C., Nov. 10.—At the public auction sale of the property of the Hope Mills Manufacturing Co., at the court house here today, the property was bid in by A. M. McCarthy, of Pennsylvania, for the bondholders, his bid, which was the only one offered, being $75,000 for the entire property, consisting of four large brick buildings, three of them suitably and fully equipped for the manufacture of cotton goods, and 15,000 acres of land, office fixtures, etc. It is said that either of the three buildings fully equipped with necessary machinery is worth the amount bid for the entire property. No other bid being offered the bid of $75,000 by Mr. McCarthy concluded the sale, which is considered only a "bid in" of the property.

The property is located at Hope Mills, a village seven miles south of Fayetteville, on the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line.

ADVANCE IN FREIGHT RATES DENIED THE WESTERN ROADS.

Commission Orders Investigation of Rates, Rules and Practices.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Applications of the Western railroads for a re-opening of the advance freight rate case were denied today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. At the same time the commission of its own initiative ordered an investigation of rates, rules and practices of Western railroads in relation to the transportation of livestock, fresh meats and packing house products. These commodities were among those on which the roads sought to have rates increased.

No reason was assigned for the refusal to re-open the case. It is understood, however, that the decision was due to the fact that increases proposed by the same roads on other commodities have not been acted upon.
